Lord Salisbury Refuses to Renew the Temporary Arrangement Protecting Seal.

Offers to Establish a Thirty-Mile Limit From the Pribyloff Islands.

The Plan is Not Practicable; Protection Could Not be Enforced Under It.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A special cable to the Tribune from London says Lord Salisbury has informed the Washington authorities that he is unwilling, pending arbitration proceedings in the Bering sea dispute, to consent to a renewal of the modus vivendi of last year. He is willing, however, to take the necessary steps for putting a stop during the coming season to Pelagic sealing within 30 miles of the Pribyloff islands.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune, who was ordered to make inquiries in the capital regarding the matter, telegraphs his paper that the Tribune's London dispatch is practically confirmed here. At any rate, he says its correctness is not denied. The Washington dispatch continues: "As long ago as last November Lord Salisbury began making difficulties and raising objections to a renewal of the modus vivendi. In fact so much was the importance seemed to attach to them so long as the treaty itself referred to the entire controversy to arbitration remained unsigned. Even as late as last week, or about the time that Lord Salisbury finally agreed to authorize Sir Julian Pauncefote to sign the treaty, there was no reason to believe that the British government would in the end resist a proposition so eminently fair, and so absolutely necessary in order to prevent from utter destruction the fast dwindling seal herds. It is difficult to imagine the reason for Lord Salisbury's refusal to renew the modus vivendi. Whatever it is, the practical effect will be the indiscriminate slaughter of tens of thousands of seals and possibly their extinction. The proposition which Lord Salisbury is said to be willing to entertain—to prevent seal from being taken within 30 miles of the Pribyloff islands—is absurd on the face of it. It is absolutely impracticable, in fact so much so that it is difficult to believe that it was made in good faith. How is an imaginary line to be established in the neighborhood of these two islands which are almost half the year hid in impenetrable fog? The complications which may result from Lord Salisbury's refusal to renew the modus vivendi are of the gravest nature. The President may see himself compelled to enforce the law which prohibits the seizure of poachers in Bering sea or he may deem it necessary to cancel, as a measure of reprisal, the valuable bonding privileges now enjoyed by Canadian railroads to the detriment of lines in the United States."

THE READING DEAL. Governor Pattison Says the Laws Shall be Enforced. HAZELTON, Pa., March 4.—Governor Pattison sent the following letter in reply to a communication from Matthew Long of this city, protesting against the Reading deal: "My Dear Sir:—Your letter of February 29, with newspaper clippings enclosed, has been received and contented. All the authorities of this state will be exerted for the enforcement of the constitution. Article 7, regulating railroad and canal companies, is a very provision of the fundamental law, commands nothing but what is right and forbids nothing but what is wrong. The law department of the state will contend vigorously for its enforcement. "Section 12 of the same article provides that 'the general assembly will enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.' Action by the legislature providing for penalties of imprisonment and fines would prove a much better remedy than the one used."

Respectfully, "ROBERT E. PATTISON."

A number of prominent citizens bearing petitions leave here on the early train today for Harrisburg, to be present at the hearing.

THE POPE'S POLITICAL VIEWS.

He Proposes the Formation of a Republican Conservative Party in France.

PARIS, March 4.—A dispatch from Rome says that the pope recently sent instructions to the papal nuncio in this city urging him to further the formation of a republican conservative party in the chamber of deputies, this new party to act in the interests of the vatican and to oppose the spread of radicalism.

"According to the story which reaches here, when this became known the representatives at the vatican of Germany, Austria, Spain and Portugal asked the papal secretary of state for an explanation of what was considered to be the pope's abandonment of his monarchical policy. The vatican, it is added, was alarmed at the request for an explanation, and replied that the instructions referred to would only apply to France, and that the vatican had no intention of displaying hostility to existing monarchical institutions or monarchies."

German Press Confessions. BERLIN, March 4.—The police have confiscated the issue of the Frankfurter Zeitung of March 1, on a charge of lese majeste. The offense consisted in commenting upon the emperor's Brandenburg speech in a manner offensive to the authorities.

The New Government Sustained. PARIS, March 4.—The premier, M. Loubet, read in the chamber of deputies today a statement of his policy. The chamber by a vote of 341 to 91 approved the government's program.

Reduced prices. For two weeks only. Reduced prices. Fine black dress suits at $35, worth $45. Good business suits at $25 and upwards, worth from $32 to $45. Hosiery, $2.50. The Duluth Tailors, 507 West Superior street.

FOUL PLAY AT ST. PETERSBURG.

English Governess Missing Since Last Summer. Her Body Found.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 4.—The British residents of this city are greatly excited over the case of the English governess who was foully murdered here some months ago, and whose body has just been discovered. The young woman came from England to be governess in the family of Mosolovsky, one of the most respected houses in the Russian capital. She was beautiful and above suspicion in conduct. As governess she was sometimes presented to the visitors at the Mosolovsky mansion and these included officers of the armed and other officials who form a considerable part of St. Petersburg society.

The young woman attended the Anglo-American church. Last summer she suddenly disappeared. She had gone to church on Sunday, prayer book in hand and never returned. Her absence remained a mystery and when the prayer book was found near the cavalry barracks suspicion deepened that she had met with foul play. It is now stated that the body was found in the barracks, near where the prayer book was discovered. Suspicion attaches to officers and soldiers connected with the barracks, but no definite evidence can be found to fix guilt upon them. The British embassy has requested the authorities to make a thorough investigation and it is said one or more soldiers are under arrest.

CHILEAN CABINET RESIGNED.

Minister Egan to Resign; An Investigating Commission Asked.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso says it is reported on good authority that Minister Egan will return to the United States in April.

Last night it was said that all the members of the cabinet had resigned, but that they were holding a consultation with President Montt, the council of state and prominent political leaders. From interviews had with prominent citizens Valparaiso it was learned that they are anxious to have the American congress appoint a commission to investigate the case of the late Minister Egan. The resignation of Egan is said to be the result of the differences between the two countries. Minister Pedro Montt has called upon Egan to resign his resignation of his post on account of his election as a deputy. The Chilean government to make a thorough investigation of his post until his successor has been appointed.

A Rush to Dakota.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., March 4.—Trains arriving here are bringing a greater number of land seekers than at any time since the Sioux reservation was opened to settlement two years ago. The United States land office here today broke the record for the last two years for the number of settlers filing on government land, nearly 20,000 homestead filings were presented. This is the first record during the past year for one day of the land office in the state. Many of these settlers are taking claim on the ceded Sioux lands, while some few locate upon the Crow Creek and Winnebago reservations. The land seekers are from the various Eastern states and report that many other persons are intending to follow.

American Accused of Theft.

LONDON, March 4.—Carl August Sampson, known as the American Hercules, and brought from America on a requisition, is on trial in the police court here for obtaining property on false pretenses. It seems that Mrs. Bernstein, the prosecutor, became enamored of him while he was performing in his circus. Her husband obtained divorce from her. Sampson had taken her money and jewelry from her, and the day before he left for New York he quitted her by both hands and pocket and laid them on a table in her room. Some hours after she went to this table and the money and jewelry were gone. She charged that he got them again by some sleight-of-hand.

Fire at Detroit.

DETROIT, March 4.—The 5-story brick building on West Larned street occupied jointly by William Reid, wholesale dealer in staid and plate glass, paints and oils, and the Detroit Confectionery company, burned last night. The building destroyed belonged to David Whitney and the loss on it is $50,000. William Reid's stock was worth at least $100,000 and insured for $100,000. Owing to the nature of the stock it is a complete loss. The confectionery company's stock was damaged about $10,000. The neighboring buildings were also somewhat damaged. The entire loss is nearly $300,000, on which there is $141,000 insurance.

Great Strike Impending in England.

LONDON, March 4.—Preparations are still being made by both employers and employees for the great coal strike to commence, according to the present outlook, about the middle of this month and by which some 450,000 men will refuse to work. The Leicestershire coal miners have given notice of a further advance of 3 per cent.

New York and New England Boom. BOSTON, March 4.—There is a boom in New York and New England stock this morning. Fifty-eight was bid for the stock on the street this morning. The transaction on the stock exchange was an enormous scale. The price of the stock advanced to 59, but it is now selling at 54 1/2.

Ex-President Porter, of Yale, Dead. NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 4.—Ex-President Porter, whose death occurred at 3:30 a. m., had been in failing health for several years, partly owing to a stroke of paralysis, though his death was more directly the result of an attack of the grip several weeks ago.

Another Big Find. DENVER, March 4.—Another big strike was made in the Superior mine on Superior Hill, at the head of Squaw Gulch, in the Cripple Creek gold strip. A chunk of ore weighing over 100 pounds was brought down to Fremont last night and it is literally covered with flakes of gold.

Libel Suit. BIDEFORD, Maine, March 4.—Parties here are preparing to bring suit for libel and conspiracy against the Merchants Retail Protective agency of Chicago for placing their names on the black list.

Severe Snow Storm in the East. GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 4.—The snow storm which has been sweeping this vicinity since the disastrous one of 1879 continues today with blinding snow and extreme cold.

FROM WASHINGTON

The Idaho Contested Election Finally Settled; Dubois Retains His Seat.

A Claim Made For the Heirs of the Late Alexander H. Stephens.

The Pension Appropriation Bill Reported: It Calls For $134,825,068.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—In the senate yesterday, Dubois was confirmed in his seat from Idaho. But nine senators voted against him. The senate passed the house bill constituting Newark, N. J., a port of immediate transportation. The military committee report a bill to establish a line of promotion throughout the several lines of the artillery, cavalry and infantry of the army. Mr. Gordon, of Georgia, caused a little flutter of surprise by introducing a resolution directing the payment of a sum which is left in blank to the heirs of the estate of the late Alexander H. Stephens, formerly vice-president of the Confederacy, in compensation for expenses incurred by him while prosecuting his claim for a seat in the United States senate during reconstruction, referred.

Mr. Ford, of Alabama, introduced a bill directing the purchase of silver bullion and the coinage thereof. It directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase silver bullion at a price not exceeding $1 for 371 25-100 grains of pure silver, and to issue in payment legal tender money "without reference to the material of which it shall be composed," which legal tender money is to be received for all debts and public dues. Referred.

The senate resumed consideration of the pure food bill. The speaker announced the appointment of Hon. Nelson Dingley, of Maine, and Hon. J. J. Hemphill, of South Carolina, as directors of the Columbian institution for the deaf and dumb district of Columbia.

A resolution was passed calling upon the secretary of war for information respecting the effect of back water of the Mississippi.

A bill was passed for the relief of the inhabitants of Ferron, Emery county, Utah. This being Friday, the house then went into committee of the whole on the bill to amend the pension act. Mr. Murcher, of Pennsylvania, from the committee on appropriations, reported to the house the bill for the appropriation bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893. The bill appropriates $13,355,668, being $1,239,454 less than the estimate and $39,970 less than the appropriation for the current fiscal year. The number of pensions on the rolls has increased from 247,755 in 1879, to 676,160 in 1891, and the amount disbursed, on a basis of which the estimate was based, has increased from $25,403,742 in 1879, to $124,415,951 in 1891. The amount appropriated for 1892 is $13,355,668.

MURDER IN CHICAGO.

The Son of a Prominent Minister Kills His Mother-in-Law.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Dr. Henry M. Scudder, son of the former pastor of Plymouth church, is under arrest charged with murder. The warrant on which Dr. Scudder is held was sworn out by the coroner, F. H. Dun, prior to the body of the wife of the father-in-law of the accused. Wednesday Dr. Scudder murdered Mrs. Dun by beating her on the head with a blunt weapon.

He had previously, as is now thought, got her signature to a will in favor of his wife by substituting a different document for the one read to her.

A witness is said to have seen Scudder striking Mrs. Dun on the head with something like a club.

The body of Mrs. Dun has been examined and will be examined. At the funeral the face was not shown on the ground that it had been so cut by her fall as to be unrepresentable.

Denial.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Vice-President H. Walter Webb, of the New York Central, says there is no truth in the report that his brother, Dr. Seward Webb, has accepted the presidency of the New York & New England railroad.

A RELIABLE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Duluth At Last Supplied With a Legitimate Stock Exchange.

The necessity of a reliable iron mining stock exchange has been felt for a long time but more especially has its need become more apparent and absolutely necessary since the present excitement in stocks began. The main feature of a mining stock exchange is the reliability and character of the gentlemen comprising the company. These essential elements are found in the Duluth Iron Mining Stock Exchange at room 102 Chamber of Commerce building, as can be perceived by the personnel of the gentlemen forming the same. The members of this exchange are: N. B. Merritt, Jas. M. McKinley, C. R. Dixon, E. B. Linn, F. A. Root, M. W. McDonald, D. S. Forgy, G. B. Nobles, H. C. Withrow—all gentlemen well known in this city and to the business community especially for their integrity and judicious business character. The Duluth Iron Mining Stock exchange deal in all kinds of iron mining stocks that can be safely invested. The company gives references to all their patrons which guarantee that all money sent to them for investment will be judiciously placed and the returns promptly made. The attention of investors is called to this exchange at room 102 Chamber of Commerce building upon which they may safely rely in all business transactions they may carry on with it.

You Will Want a Nobby Spring suit when you have sold your mining stock; if so call on Mueller Bros. in Chamber of Commerce, and they will satisfy you.

IRON DEVELOPMENTS.

Some of the Changes Which Almost Any Day Can Bring Forth.

The report of an ore find in the Charleston property was the feature of the stock market last night and that company's stock which had been at 11 cents jumped up to 12 1/2. The property is well located in 59-63, and the find is on the NW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of section 34. The stock had been considered good and was freely bought, but the news of a splendid find naturally pushed it up a little.

The excursionists who went to the range early yesterday morning returned at 9 o'clock last night greatly enthused with what they saw on the Hale, Kana, who, Havelock, Cincinnati, Canton, and McKinley properties. They know where they speak and will go from Duluth as boomers of the Mesaba. Among the visitors were W. A. Taylor, of the Cincinnati Inquirer; Howard Saxby, of the Commercial Gazette; R. Ballard and W. B. Crail, also of Cincinnati; C. G. Smedberg, of Covington, Ky.; R. W. Nelson, of Newport, Ky.; Lewis Baker Jr., and C. H. Murphy, of the St. Paul Globe, and W. Whitman, of Boston. W. B. Dixon and Morris O. Brooks, chaperoned the party while Superintendent Greatsinger, of the Iron Range road, was in charge of the special train and made things pleasant for the excursionists.

The Swedish American Iron company has the following incorporators: C. A. Smith, O. N. Ostrom, N. O. Werner, of Minneapolis; John Peterson, L. M. Erickson, Andrew Nelson, of St. Peter; Nils Hall, J. E. Ecklund, N. A. Linderberg and John A. Carlson, of Duluth. The directors have chosen the following officers: President, C. A. Smith, of Minneapolis; vice president, Nels Hall, of Duluth; secretary, N. A. Linderberg, of Duluth; treasurer, John Peterson, of St. Peter. The stock is $200,000 in $100 shares.

The Duluth Iron Mining company has been incorporated by Frank Cox, Samuel W. Eckman, Arthur Howell and others, of Duluth, with a capital stock of $200,000 in $100 shares.

Advices from St. Paul and Minneapolis indicate that the prominent business men of these towns are awaking to the great possibilities of the new discoveries in our mineral region. The Manhattan Iron company, with a capital of $300,000 and the Standard Iron company with the same amount, are already in process of incorporating. The former company owns in fee 200 acres located in the very heart of the rich discoveries and holds leases on 600 acres, scattered along the range, which have been carefully selected. The Standard also has a large holding of acreage well located and showing iron on several forties. These properties are held by prominent business men who propose to start the development of their properties at once.

The Kakina, which was incorporated some time ago by Donald Grant, W. H. Fisher, T. Foley, Frank B. Clarke and D. H. Merritt, has a force of men at work on the Kakina and has several pits in ore. Their properties are all along the range, but the present developments are in section 17, 58-10. Other tracts with good prospects are in sections 12 and 13 in 58-10, and section 6, 58-15. This company has been incorporated before the present excitement and has sold only a small amount of stock, as the men back of it probably develop their own property.

Another excursion party journeyed to the Mesaba range today. Among those who were K. D. Chase, president of the Mesaba road; E. N. Morrison, of Baltimore, president of the Winnipeg; W. H. Fisher, general manager of the Winnipeg; George Jenkins and Jesse Hills, of Baltimore, and John Kelly of Philadelphia; all directors of the Winnipeg; and several other distinguished visitors and citizens.

The excursion to the Mesaba range tomorrow will include 80 invited guests from Chicago, Superior, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. The train leaves at 8 in the morning and will return at 9:30 in the evening.

There is a big company being formed with 12,000 acres in 57-20, 58-10, 58-10, 59-17, 59-18, and some in ranges 23 and 24. This will be one of the largest mining companies on the Mesaba range, but it is not yet incorporated and probably other properties will be included before developments begin.

The Detroit Mining company opened its books for about to minutes yesterday and disposed of considerable stock, all that it is willing to sell at the price offered, and will push its developments before placing any more on the market. A large force of men and teams is at work on the property.

The quotation in one of the morning papers placing the Rouchleau at 25 cents seems to have been unauthorized, as there is no such stock on the market, or if so, it is entirely without the knowledge of Louis Rouchleau, who has extensive iron interests on the Mesaba.

An iron man who has spent several years on the Vermilion and Mesaba ranges assured a Herald representative today that the Mallman company, although the property has been neglected for some time, has the stuff in the ground and will develop a good mine. Its officers are A. J. Trimble, president; A. H. Vile, vice-president; F. W. Paine, treasurer; and Horace Williston, secretary.

Professor N. H. Winchell came down from Minneapolis this morning and left for the Mesaba range this afternoon. He will probably remain several days on the hematite heights.

Late this afternoon Charleston was held at 13, with very little doing. Cincinnati was also somewhat firmer, but no transactions were reported, as all are waiting for a raise. Little will be done until all properties are listed and the new exchange gets into working order. The curbstone business has become rather wearisome, but several large transfers of mining property have been made. Most of the outside money has come in for the purchase of portions of the earth and the fullness thereof, and not for stock speculation. The outlook is brighter than ever.

Capt. J. D. Day, general manager of the famous Norrie mine on the Gogebic range, the largest iron mine in the world, it has produced 10,000,000 tons in a single year, was in Duluth today. While here he called on old friend A. J. Trimble, and after careful examination of the sample of ore from Trimble and Hibbing's bonanza find on 58-20, admitted that he would be unable to distinguish it from his own—the Norrie ore. He laughingly said as he went out: "I am afraid you boys are trying to open up a rival to the Norrie." Capt. Hibbing with a few of the capitalists and their representatives who are interested with him and Mr. Trimble went up today to inspect the progress. Reports received today, are that the pits are going down rapidly and still in the same high grade ore.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 4.—The weather conditions have not improved much in the past 24 hours. A storm now over Kansas and Colorado and another over the extreme Northwest.
Rain has fallen at scattered places, the heaviest being half an inch at Duluth, Wis. Rain.
The temperature has generally risen except in the north, where it has fallen slightly, and except in that section is everywhere pleasant ranging from 25° to 30°.
It is probable that after this condition of affairs has prevailed a fair pleasant weather will prevail for some time.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 40°, lowest last night 32°.

DULUTH, March 4.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 5: fair, probably followed by rain; warmer; fair and colder Saturday.

west; fair in northwest portions; easterly winds,

POLITICS AND ITS FOES.

The tendency of the larger states to fall under the control of political bosses has long been noticeable. For years, Pennsylvania has had its Republican bosses; New York, its Democratic bosses.
Since the time when Simon Cameron first bought up two or three Democrats and with them a seat in the United States senate, Republicans have had frequent opportunity to excuse the machine ring by a Pennsylvania boss of the Cameron-Quay type. It is now over twenty years since Tweed and the old Tammany ring brought ruin and disgrace on the New York Democracy, and during all that time, there has been some sort of Democratic boss ruling the metropolis; often, the whole state. David B. Hill is the latest fruit of this corrupt tree.

We see much discussion in the party press of the political duty of the citizen.
He must join some party; he may seek to reform that party "from the inside," but must never rebel against it; he must be always on his guard against over-righteousness. The action of the party in solemn convention assembled, after going through the venerable forms in the regular way, should bind his conscience.
But this fact, if he trusts his own eyes and ears, is apt to be a comfort him. A boss through his machine, has selected the convention, has dictated its creed, and has selected every one of its candidates in advance. In short, the solemn convention is a solemn farce. His position is, so far as his party is concerned, the counterpart of that of the Emperor of Germany. He asks for obedience, not advice. If a member of his party remonstrates against, or even criticizes his action, that man is no longer an orthodox member of the party. If he holds an appointive office from his party, he loses it at once. He has been guilty of "lese-majesty." He is a misfit.

That at once raises the question, not whether obedience to a party machine in such hands is honorable, but whether disobedience is dishonorable? Ardent partisans claim for their boss not only the power of a civil leader but that of a military commander. Disobedience in their eyes is not mere rebellion, it is desertion. This heresy underlies all the evil politics of our day.

It is undoubtedly true that citizens of a republic naturally combine into political parties. In no other way can they make republicanism effective. Every party formed for honorable purposes and based on fairly understood principles has a right to the loyal support of its members. But that support should be voluntary and it should be conscientious. It is the clear duty of every man who finds himself in a party whose measures he has come to consider wrong, whose methods honest men cannot approve, or whose candidates he finds unfit, to repudiate the authority of that party. He is not a soldier sworn to obedience, right or wrong, but a free citizen who is his own master and who is responsible to no one for his political action.

The rumor of Mr. Cleveland's withdrawal from the presidential race will not be readily credited. He may not be nominated, but to yield to the smart tactics of Hill without a struggle would not seem characteristic of the man. But, supposing the rumor true, how would it improve the chances of the democratic party? It would oblige that party either to declare squarely against silver coinage, or to give up the East. In short, it would require, to use the old phrase so common just before the war, the nomination of "a Western man with Eastern principles." Such a nomination would be weaker than Cleveland at the East and no stronger in the West.

The agreement for arbitration of the Bering sea difficulty provided for a board of seven persons, two representing the United States, two representing Great Britain, one of whom is a Canadian, and one each representing the neutral governments of France, Sweden and Italy.
The neutral arbitrators will of course decide all the questions on which the parties cannot agree. This arbitration, as we understand the matter, is simply to decide on the power of the United States alone to stop the destruction of seals in Bering sea. Should it decide against us, there might arise the question whether this country, Russia and England could unite in declaring a close season.

The Chicago News declares that most of the stock of the Whisky Trust is owned East. It says, "Every man here who engaged in the business has made a fortune, and a few weeks ago, when it was apparent that trouble could not be much longer averted, the Peoria and Chicago men unloaded all their stock on Eastern capitalists at a high figure.
They are now ready to quit. If the government wins the fight the Eastern men will be willing to sell out the stock for whatever they can get, and the Western men have made money enough to wait until the trouble is over."

The Chicago Inter Ocean in justifying the enormous salaries paid insurance presidents overlooks one important fact.
Mutual companies are those who seem to pay the largest salaries, and it is the officers themselves who practically fix their own pay. The great body of insured are so scattered, their individual interests so small, that they have little influence over the officers they nominally elect. When the latter, therefore, vote themselves enormous salaries, they are really plundering the trust it is their duty to protect.

The Massachusetts legislature is proposing to pass an act compelling the use of automatic car couplings. Not only ought such a law to be enacted in one state, it should be the law in every state.
The slaughter of brakemen in coupling cars is one of the most shocking features of our railroad system. Not only should some form of automatic coupler be adopted, a law should pass holding the railroad companies liable for damages to every brakeman hurt, or to the representatives of any brakeman killed, through their failure to have suitable couplings.

The high price of land in Illinois and its lower price in Iowa has led to quite an emigration. Wednesday night an emigrant train of 69 cars took 106 persons, 112 of them adults, from McLean county, in Central Illinois, to Boone and Hardin counties, in Central Iowa.

Chicago has paid bounties on 20,000 sparrows since Dec. 1. Yet they thrive on persecution.

Sixth District Possibilities.

The Globe is interested in noticing the number and the quality of congressional candidates who are being pressed for consideration in all quarters of the state.
The Sixth district, which includes the counties of Duluth, is displaying some special activity in this respect. On the democratic side half a dozen have been named. There is the venerable mayor of the Zenith city, Mr. d'Autremont; Mr. Stivers, of Brainerd; the factory, Keller, of Sank Center; and from St. Cloud the eloquent Calhoun and Theodore Bruner, who is at once a good fellow and an able lawyer. Mr.
Stuppin, Mr. Hartley, Judge Stearns and no end of others from Duluth have been mentioned for the republican nomination, and besides them Governor Barto, the ponderous and genial, and Judge Searle, of St. Cloud. Any one of these would make an influential and capable representative, and that is what is wanted. If we can have good democrats in congress from Minnesota, it is much to be desired. But if we cannot, let us have good republicans. The Globe would like to see each side put forward its best men in every district.
Then, whatever happens, we shall have a strong delegation, capable of accomplishing important results for their constituents.

Paderewski's Playing.

(William Mason in the Century.) Without going closely into detail, there are certain matters concerning Pade-rewski's mechanical work which deserve the attention of students and others interested in piano technique. In many passages, without altering a note from the originals, he ingeniously manages to bring out the full rhythmic and metrical effect, also the emphasis necessary to disentan-gle phrases, by means of a change of fingering, effected either by interlocking the hands or by dividing different portions of the runs and arpeggios between them.
In this way the accents and the emphasized tones are clean-cut, while at the same time a perfect legato is preserved.
His pedal effects are invariably managed with consummate skill and in a thoroughly musical way, which results in exquisite tonal effects in all grades where they belong, and all of the composite tones are clean-cut, while at the

(Father Prouty.)
With deep affection and recollection often think of those Shandon bells, Whose sound so wild would, in days of childhood,
Flare "round my cradle their magic spells;
On this I ponder, where'er I wander,
And thus grow fonder, sweet Cork, of thee,
With thy bells of Shandon That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.
I've heard the bells chiming full many a clime in Tolling whilome in cathedral shrine, While at a glissade brass tongues would vibrate.
In all their magic spoke sounds like thine,
For memory dwelling on each grand swelling
And the bells of Shandon
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.
I've heard bells tolling "Old Adrian's Mole in,"
Their thunder rolling from the volcano.
And cyphers glowing, swinging up and
In the gorgeous turrets of "Notre Dame" But thy sounds were sweeter than the dome of Peter.
Flings o'er the Tiber, pealing solemnly,
Oh! the bells of Shandon Sound far more grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.
There's a bell in Moscow, while on tower and
in
In Saint Sophia, the Turkman gets
And loud in air, calls men to pray
From the tapering summit of tall minarets; Shen-en-py's Planton, I freely grant
But there's an anthem more dear to me,
The bells of Shandon
That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters of the river Lee.

A MONTH OF MEETINGS.

The Eloquent Moses Hull and the Original Dr. Henry Slade Coming.
The Campaign to Commence on Next Sunday Morning.

Is spiritualism true? That is just what multitudes of scientists, theologians and other classes of thinkers are today endeavoring to find out, and it is a well known fact that more of the world's thinkers are investigating this subject at the present, than at any former time.
Several millions of the most intelligent and thoughtful men and women have been forced to the conclusion that the fundamental doctrines of spiritualism are true. Multitudes of others believe the whole thing a fallacy, and still other multitudes are in doubt. All reasonable persons will admit, however, that if the doctrine of spiritualism be true, it is a matter of the utmost importance to the whole human race. If it be true, its philosophy should be more carefully studied and should be better understood by all classes.
If it really is one of the great natural laws of the universe, the more fact that it is rejected by a portion of the human race, can no more overthrow it, than could the law of gravitation be overthrown by those who, when Newton announced his great discovery, did not believe in the existence of any such a law. On the other hand, if this doctrine be a fallacy, it should be exposed to the world, and the sooner, the better.

Now, there is no better way to ascertain the truth about this matter than to honestly, candidly and thoroughly investigate it; and it is assumed that there are many hundreds of intelligent and independent ladies and gentlemen in Duluth—both in the churches and out of them—who would be glad to investigate this subject did a favorable opportunity present itself. To those so inclined, the writer would suggest that it can be most advantageously investigated, first, by an examination of the philosophy of spiritualism, and then to follow that up by an investigation of the phenomena which are claimed to be an exhibition of spiritual presence and spirit power. If investigators find that the philosophy is plausible and reasonable, the next step is to investigate the phenomena, and see if they fit, and prove the truth of the philosophy. By reason of the rather isolated location of our city, with reference to the great east and west lines of railroads, she has not heretofore been visited by very many spiritualistic lecturers, and hence, there has probably been less attention paid to the investigation of this subject in Duluth, than in almost any other city of this size in the country. It will be remembered, however, that last fall, Moses Hull, one of the ablest expounders of spiritualism of the day, and also one of the most entailing lecturers now before the public, spent a month in this city, and that, as a result of the interest aroused by him, there was organized at Duluth a spiritualistic society, the purpose of which was to investigate the phenomena of spiritualism, and to disseminate the results of its work, a society known as the Spiritual and Liberal Research Society.

All who feel any interest in the subject alluded to above will be glad to know, that Mr.
Hull, accompanied by his wife who is his talented and efficient co-worker, will deliver another course of lectures in this city this month, commencing at 10:30
a. m. on Sunday at the society's new hall on Fourth street and Fifth avenue east.
That he will again be greeted with large audiences there can be no doubt.
But those interested in this subject will also be glad to learn that during this month we shall have with us the most noted of all living test mediums—one who a few years ago created the deepest interest among the great heads and scientists of the Old World by the exhibition of his wonderful psychic powers. This man, one time was subjected to a tedious criminal prosecution for alleged fraud, but in the end, he was found by his accusers and succeeded in convincing the renowned Zollner, and other eminent scientists that his marvelous phenomena were just what he claimed for them, strictly genuine. Of course, allusion is made to the venerable Dr. Henry Slade, a gentleman whose impaired health does not permit him to lead so active a life as he did a dozen years ago, but who is nevertheless still able to cause to be produced independent slate writing and many other phenomena which the people of Duluth have,
of course, read of, but which they have never been permitted to see.

It is probable that the doctor will not give any public tests, but he will give sittings to select companies and to all private parties who may desire to investigate his phenomena.
Upon the whole, the society above named is planning a sort of revival meeting for this month, and all who are interested in the subject are cordially invited to attend the proposed meetings, and a special invitation is extended to the good people of the other churches who have never had a chance of investigating the matter, and who are willing to know the truth, and also to the materialists, on the other hand, who hold that "death ends all." It only remains to be said that instead of "passing the hat," an admission fee of 10 cents will be charged at the door to help pay the expenses of these meetings.

Clover Blossoms.
Some-sing of the lilys, and daisies and rose,
And the pansies and jinks that the summer of time throw,
In the green grassy fan of the meadow that lays Himself 'neath the sky, from the sunshiny blue that is the lilys and all the rest Of the flowers so many with a heart in his breast.
That has sweet brims full of the honey and
Of the sweet clover blossoms his babyhood knew?
I never set eyes on a clover field now,
Or feel round a stable, or climb in a mow But my childhood comes back, just as clear and as plain
As the smell of the clover I'm sniffing again;
And I wonder away in a handkerchief cloud Where I tangle my toes in the blossoms that glow.
With the dew of the dawn of the morning of glow.
Ere it went o'er the graves that I'm weeping above.

And so I live clover—it seems like a part Of the innocent sorrows and joys of my heart;
And whenever it blossoms, oh, then let me know, While my soul slips away on a breeze of perfume.
And I pray to Him still for the strength, when I die,
To go out to the clover and tell it goodly,
And forlornly meet my face in its bloom, While my soul slips away on a breeze of perfume.

A Lumberman's Rendezvous.
This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central lines, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends North to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber interests. The Wisconsin river to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wiscon," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufactures; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central and the Twin cities, are located.

THE WORLD'S FAIR

Conference of Committee on Federal Legislation: Five Members Present; Session Harmonious.

Five Millions Will be Asked of Congress for the Great Exhibit.

Great Results Predicted for the Sugar Beet Industry: Will Supply Home Needs.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—"We have had a very satisfactory and harmonious conference," said President Baker, of the Chicago local World's fair directory, referring to the discussion yesterday over the proposed bill for a World's fair appropriation. "We agreed upon the essential features of the bill to be presented to congress embodying the needs and desires of the commission and the directory."

We shall ask for an appropriation of $5,000,000 to be made upon the same terms as that made by the city of Chicago for the completion of the work on the buildings. The total requirements of the commission will be less than $1,000,000. We shall proceed today to put the bill into the exact shape in which we shall have it presented to congress.

Among the members of the committee on federal legislation who were present at the conference were: Messrs. Allen, of New York; Rucker, of South Dakota; Wilson, of the District of Columbia; Saunders, of Mississippi, and Harris, of Virginia.

Henry T. Oxnard, of Nebraska, who represents four out of the six best sugar factories in the United States and inaugurated the beet sugar industry in this country, says: "Inside of 10 years the factories of this country will be producing four out of the six best sugar used for home consumption. It is no longer a matter of experiment, but business. There are four factories in the West, two in Nebraska, one in Utah and another in California, which are producing beet sugar. Each of these factories cost about $500,000 to build. A large proportion of the states can profitably grow the beets."

Mr. Oxnard asserts that agents of the French and German governments are lobbying to have the bounty tax repealed by the present congress in order to continue importation of sugar.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND

Unheld by the Pope: the Minnesota Prelate May be Made a Cardinal.

ROME, March 5.—A sensation has been created in the circles of the publication in the Monitor of an article of four columns in length directed from the Vatican, headed, "Monsieur Ireland and his Calumnies." It is known that the article is intended as an answer in behalf of the pope, to the attacks upon Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, which have followed the prelate from America in his visit to Rome. The archbishop has been received with the greatest favor by the pope, who is said to be charmed with his visitor, and seriously meditate making him cardinal of the United States.

It has been claimed by Archbishop Ireland's critics, that he was turning parochial schools into public schools; in short that he is Americanizing the church instead of catholicizing America. The pope believes that the true way is to adapt the church to the needs of the people where it is located.

To Step Down and Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Lloyd Tevis, president of Wells, Fargo & Co., returned from the east yesterday. During his absence it was stated that serious discussions existed in the board of directors of Wells, Fargo & Co. and that there was grave dissatisfaction with Mr. Tevis' management. Mr. Tevis denied all these rumors but said that on account of the attention his private business demanded, he would resign the presidency of the company at the next annual meeting.

Cleveland Will Not Interfere With Gray.

CHICAGO, March 5.—A special from Indianapolis says the annual meeting of the Indiana Tariff Reform league was to have been held yesterday, but was postponed until March 11. It is hoped that ex-President Cleveland would be here, but the meeting will have to be held without his presence. His reasons have declined to come. His reasons are not made public, but it is understood that he believes it would be impolitic to invade ex-Gov. Gray's territory.

RICH GOLD FINDS IN COLORADO.

General Stampede for the Mines: the Ore Assays $27 Per Ton.

CHICAGO, March 5.—A special from La Junta, Col., says: What promises to be another of Colorado's wonderful mining canons has just been uncovered here and every mode of conveyance is being put into use for a general stampede to the foot hills of the Spanish Peaks which are about 30 miles southwest of this place. The nearest railroad town is Delphi on the Santa Fe route. The place has been known for several years in order to get the ore, but was never thought to be worth working until the great finds at Grecco and Cripple Creek. A rough assay shows the ore to run about $27 per ton in gold. The vein has been traced for a distance of eight miles with no indication of that being its limit.

Could Not Face Her Own Folly.

LONDON, March 5.—A stir was created in the Westminster police court today by the news that Mrs. Margaret Bernstein had collapsed under the strain caused by her love letters to "Strong Man Sampson" and wished to drop the case in order to avoid trial. The letters to the defense had reserved for her use as ammunition. The counsel asked the magistrate to adjourn the case but the magistrate refused and decided to await the appearance of the plaintiff who was in the office of her lawyer waiting to hear the result of the proceedings. He took occasion to say that he would be no party to an attempt to force an arrangement of a criminal case.

Gold Craze in Kansas.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 5.—A resident of Plymouth, Atchison county, Kan., arrived here yesterday and reported a find of gold near that place. A portion of a big bluff fell into a creek. It was examined by a farmer in that vicinity who discovered traces of the precious metal. A sample of it was sent to Kansas City where it was assayed and pronounced very valuable. The lucky finder has purchased 160 acres of the land and neighboring farmers have neglected their farms for the pick and shovel and all are seeking gold.

Maggie Mitchell. In her new play, "The Little Magician," Maggie Mitchell, who will be seen at Temple Opera house Friday and Saturday evenings, admirably, the new piece is a new American comedy drama, by C. T. Dazey, and from being the heroine becomes a great hero and the wife of a nobleman. Miss Mitchell's charming personality pervades the piece and her success in it thus far has been greater than in any piece with which she has been identified.

A RELIABLE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Duluth at Last Supplied With a Legitimate Stock Exchange.

The necessity of a reliable iron mining stock exchange has been felt for a long time, but more especially has its need become more apparent and absolutely necessary since the present excitement in stocks began. The main feature of a mining stock exchange is the reliability and character of the gentlemen comprising the company. These essential elements are found in the Duluth Iron Mining Stock Exchange at room 102 Chamber of Commerce building, as can be perceived by the personnel of the gentlemen forming the same. The members of this exchange are: N. B. Merritt, Jas. M. McKinley, D. Dixon, E. R. Linnen, F. A. Root, W. McDonald, D. S. Forgy, G. B. Nobles, H. C. Withrow—all gentlemen well known in this city and to the business community, especially for their integrity and judicious business character. The Duluth iron mining stock exchange deals in all kinds of iron mining stocks and can be easily invested in. The company gives references to all their patrons which guarantee that all monies sent to them for investment will be judiciously placed and the returns promptly made. The constitution of investors is called to this exchange at room 102 Chamber of Commerce building upon which they may rely in all business transactions they may carry on with it.

ANOTHER CHANGE.

M. A. Hayes Assumes Control of the News Today.

Another change was made in the management of the News this morning, and the arrangement now in force is probably a permanent one. The News of late has been in a very unsettled state. Some weeks ago Manager Bowen resigned and was succeeded by Emil Schmidt. Shortly after the paper went into the hands of a receiver. Under his direction the paper was sold and was purchased by a number of Duluth gentlemen among whom were C. G. Hartley and Luther Mendenhall. Mr. Schmidt continued as manager until this morning when he was succeeded by M. A. Hayes, an old Duluth newspaper man who was formerly the Pioneer Press representative and later the managing editor of the Duluth Times. Mr. Hayes will have complete control of the editorial department and will act as business manager as well, at least for the present. There will probably be some changes in the staff but they are not yet announced, more than that W. T. Thompson will be city editor under the new regime.

Lakeside Realty.

Mr. Sargent, of the Lakeside Land company, was seen by a Herald reporter this morning in regard to the situation at Lakeside. Mr. Sargent said: "I noticed in one of the papers while away that our company was going to build 500 houses at Lakeside this year. We would like to, but as this would be more than we have done in the past four years we do not expect that much business, but we are looking forward to a good year. I have only been home a few days and have already contracted for nine houses to be built at once and have thought for many more. We confidently expect the electric line to be extended to Lester river this year and the cars running on it before Jan. 1, '93. I can say conscientiously that I never saw the prospects look brighter for a good year at the head of the lake than this year. 1892 and this means lots of business for us at Lakeside. Chairman Little, of the fire committee at Lakeside called out the fire department last evening on practice, without notifying them, and the boys got out and went to the fire station in just 25 minutes after the alarm was turned in, which is good time for green horses and slushy roads."

Retimbered the Shaft.

The Chandler has retimbered the shaft of No. 3 shaft, a distance of about 75 feet. The shaft was first filled with cordwood to hold it from caving when the timbering was begun from the top. The timber around No. 3 and over the stockpiles is being removed. The new shaft house will be much higher than the old one, therefore the timbers will also be much higher and more stockpile room will naturally result. The timbers for No. 1 shaft house have been framed and will be put up in a few days.

Car Service.

The report of the Lake Superior Car Service association, for the month of February shows that the total number of cars handled during the month was 15,404, as compared with 7761 one year ago, and 10,000 in January. Of these the St. Paul & Duluth handled 608 cars, the Omaha 111, the Northern Pacific 1025, the Eastern 2019 and the Great Shore 1.

A RUSH ON THE RANGE.

Everybody Wants to See the Wonders of the Mesaba.

Hon. O. D. Kinney returned from the Mesaba range today and reports a wonderful begonia to that realm of the blest. Eleven balloon frames were reared in the town of Merritt yesterday and lumber is being rushed in from Mesaba station as fast as possible. Fully 150 people are expected to see the range, while caravans were departing at all hours last night. A dozen teams had to stand out doors, as there were not stables enough to afford them shelter, and the whole country is the scene of the greatest activity. Teams and footmen are thick along the highway, and there is every indication that the outside world is beginning to catch on. And the end is not yet. In fact, we are just in the outskirts of our future glory.

THE ATTORNEY'S REPORT

City Attorney Allen Gives a Resume of the Work of His Department.

A Number of Suits Now Pending to Which the City is a Party.

The Amount of Judgments Against the City Has Been Increased Very Greatly.

City Attorney Allen today filed with the city clerk his report for the term during which he has held office. In brief he says:

"The city, like other corporations, is liable to have brought against it suits which would not be pressed against private persons. When I became city attorney, the principal source of litigation against the city was damages claimed for alleged loss of lateral support by excavating for street improvement."

During 14 months prior to my election, there had been recovered against the city in these cases, damages aggregating the sum of $80,135.50, in cases. The true rule of damages in such cases was the diminution of the market value of the property affected, and not, as had been previously regarded, the cost of erecting a retaining wall. I have tried this class of actions to 12 suits and of the verdicts rendered in two years amounting in the aggregate to only $17,286, less than one-fourth of the amount recovered in the previous 14 months. During the year previous to my election there was recovered against the city on general claims judgments amounting in the aggregate to $185,000.

During the last two years only one judgment of this class has been rendered against the city, that amounting to $12,000 in favor of Robert Raab, who is now in the supreme court.

There are now in the supreme court two actions which have been tried and vs. the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad company and Northwestern Fuel company, against the dock front at Fifth avenue west. The second case is brought by J. H. Greiser against the city. It will settle the question whether or not the Duluth Gas and Water company has the exclusive right to lay gas and water pipes in the streets of the city.

There are now pending between the city and the Duluth Gas and Water company. The first of these is in the supreme court and is set for trial at the coming April term. The decision in this case was made by Judge Stearns, holding that the so-called guarantees were invalid. The second case is a second suit brought by the Gas and Water company to test the validity of the alleged guarantees, and was recently decided by Judge Baxter. The amounts indirectly involved in these suits are large and the suits merit very careful attention. The third suit between the Duluth Gas and Water company and the city was commenced about a year ago by the company to recover from the city about $4000. It was referred to Alfred Jacques to hear the evidence and make his findings of fact thereunder. The evidence, amounting to nearly a thousand pages, has been taken and Mr. Jacques is at work making his findings.

While there has been a decrease in the actual litigation of the city, except in the municipal court, there has been an increase in legal work. A number of complicated matters have arisen that have caused the department a large amount of work. Among these I might mention the failure of Forestal Brothers, the failure of Bell & Lyster, the failure of Bell and Anderson in attempting to carry out the Forestal contracts; the making of a vindictive over the railroad track across Lake avenue; the denials of the city charter; and the proposition and securing the passage of a bill in the municipal court for the annexation of West Duluth, Lakeside and other adjacent territory."

SEDUCTOR KILLED.

British Banker Shot by an American Officer in Japan for Seducing His Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—George G. Robinson, a well-known resident of Yokohama, Japan, was shot and killed, Feb. 13, by Lieut. Hetherington, of the United States navy, claiming criminal intimacy with his wife. Robinson on his deathbed denied having any criminal relations with Hetherington's wife.

LONDON, March 7.—A dispatch from Yokohama says that a serious division of feeling has arisen between the English and American colonies relative to the shooting of Robinson, the English banker, by Lieut. Hetherington. Under the existing treaties with Japan, European countries have extra-territorial jurisdiction over criminals belonging to their respective nationalities. This anomaly, which has for some time labored to abolish, but without success, as foreigners claim that they are not yet sufficiently convinced that Japanese justice is fitted for dealing with civilized people. The case of Lieut. Hetherington, of course, comes under American jurisdiction, as he is the person accused, and he will be tried by the American court, but the English and American are watching the case very jealously and should Hetherington be acquitted or let off with a light penalty, there will be reprisals in some form.

Robinson was very popular among the British colony and his friends claim that there was no good cause or excuse for Hetherington to take the law in his own hands. The case has already led to strained relations between English and American society in Japan and some of the leading English have given the case direct to their American acquaintances, especially of the official class. As English influence in Japan is steadily increasing, the situation also affects unfavorably American relations with the natives.

Hetherington's friends are making efforts to secure evidence that will place him right in the eyes of the foreign element and give reason for his acquittal. That both the Americans and English will regard as satisfactory. They hope to prove that Robinson boasted of his conquests of the other sex and that Mrs. Hetherington was not the only victim of his wiles and that the circumstances under which Lieut. Hetherington took the life of the alleged seducer of his wife would have justified any husband in acting as he did. On the other hand, Robinson's ante mortem statement denying that he had been guilty of any wrong and asserting that he was innocent of the charge, has many believers and will, it is claimed, tell strongly against Hetherington on his trial.

The case is a most embarrassing one for the consular court whose duties are usually confined to the protection of their own citizens and the settlement of disputes by or between or occasional acts of wrong doing by cosmopolitan vagrants. It is also embarrassing because the Japanese will watch it narrowly as a specimen of foreign justice which they are now losing no opportunity to criticize. The Japanese are deeply aggrieved because America and England have not consented to accept Japanese jurisdiction for their suits, and they feel, therefore, dejected to be able to point to an alleged failure of justice.

DOMINION REVENUE CUTTERS.

New Boats Built for Light Draft and Speed; No Violation of Treaty. OTTAWA, Ont., March 7.—Two new light steel revenue cutters are about to be placed on the upper lakes by the Dominion government for the protection of the fisheries in those waters from depletion by the use of gill and pound nets, both of which are illegal. It is suggested that the old vessels should be removed and replaced by new boats of light draft and built for speed. One of the new boats will be placed on Lake Superior and the other on Lake Huron, the old boats on these lakes being commissioned for coast service for the St. Lawrence for preventive work in connection with smuggling by Frenchmen from the islands.

There will be no violation of old treaties in any way.

Grand Duke of Hesse Dying.

BERLIN, March 7.—The Grand Duke Louis of Hesse shows no signs of improvement today. His breathing is labored and the attending physicians have the greatest fears. The grand duke's children have been notified of his condition and it is said that the Grand Duchess Elizabeth is hurrying from Moscow to reach the bedside of her dying father. The palace at Darmstadt was surrounded at an early hour by a multitude anxious to learn the latest regarding the condition of the ruler to whom they are deeply attached.

Trying to Shoot Her Husband.

BROOKLYN, March 7.—Mrs. Minnie Platt was arrested last evening charged by her husband, W. H. Platt, a retired naval engineer, with attempting to shoot him when they met on the street. She claims that a friend of Platt's pulled a pistol out of her pocket and then called a policeman and had her arrested. She says Platt has been trying to get her in trouble ever since he failed to get a divorce from her for alleged adultery.

TRouble IN LEIPSIc.

Book Printers Dissatisfied; Wool Spinners Also; Sedition Speech. BERLIN, March 7.—Several arrests were made today of persons who were engaged in yesterday's disturbances at Leipzig. Great discontent prevails among the working classes of that city, especially those engaged in wool spinning, although the leaders in Sunday's attempted outbreak are said to have been employees of the great Leipzig publishing house, which is the leading industry of the place. The workmen in the book business have for a long time been dissatisfied with wages and treatment, and as they are generally more intelligent and better informed than the tradesmen in other lines they are usually looked up to as leaders in a popular movement. The socialist element is very strong among them and they are continually agitating more or less actively in favor of the socialist party. There are also in Leipzig a good number of extremists who look to revolution as the only remedy for popular wrongs. Of the crowd that gathered in the market place the police took a lively part, led by printers and bookbinders.

They were not at first interfered with by the police, but when they spoke of royalty as bearing down too heavily on the people, and therefore not to be tolerated, the police took notice of them. They marched in force to the market place pressing the crowd back without having to use their weapons. The workmen secured at first a suburb and apparently inclined to resist, but concluded to retire without violence. Today the police are out in strong force and the streets are quiet.

GONE INSANE.

A Young Wife's Horrible Discovery; Finds Her Husband's Dead Body. WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 7.—John Traynor, of Coal Run, in this county, a fire boss, engaged in a mine where he worked Friday as was his custom to examine the chambers and test the gas. He did not return and his young wife became alarmed at his absence. A party was organized which scoured the mine but failed to find him. The wife then became distracted. The next morning the police, in a diligent search in the village failed to reveal any trace of her and it is generally supposed that the loss of her husband had unbalanced her mind and she had wandered to the mountains.

A party of mine surveyors who were examining some old workings Saturday afternoon entered an old breast close to the manway which led to the mine. They heard the sound of a human voice in the darkness some distance beyond. They listened intently and were started to recognize the voice of a woman crooning softly the words of a love song. Flashing their lamps about, the light soon fell upon the face of a wild-eyed woman holding in her lap the head of a man and swaying it from side to side while she sang. It was Mrs. Traynor. She gave an outcry and fainted. She is now insane. The body of her husband was found in the mine after it is supposed that when she disappeared she made directly for the manhole and stumbled across the body of her husband who had been caught by a fall of top coal on his way out.

Murder In Georgia.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 7.—Dr. M. W. Peck, of Chattahoochee county, is in jail charged with the murder of M. M. Thomas, a neighbor. The men quarreled on Tuesday last week about a fence line in the care of the doctor. Thomas finally started toward the doctor with an open knife, but Peck was too quick for him, drew a pistol and shot him in the eye. While waiting the arrival of the doctor, Peck gave Thomas medical attendance. When he was tended to his home he refused the aid of other physicians that had been summoned, expressing his belief in the skill of his assailant. Peck worked hard to save Thomas' life, but failed, and the latter died yesterday.

The marriage took place on Washington's birthday, but the fact only leaked out yesterday.

Proceedings Against Kentucky Lotteries.

LOUISVILLE, March 7.—Attorney General Hendrick announced last night that quo warranto proceedings would be instituted against the Kentucky lotteries today. The headquarters and main offices are in this city and the officers said they would be in the city in accordance with a law just passed by the legislature, the charters have been declared repealed and void.

SILVER DEBATE.

The World's Fair Managers Will Ask for an Appropriation of $7,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The debate upon the order from the committee on rules setting apart March 23, 23 and 24 for the consideration of the Bland silver bill was prefaced by a lively parliamentary controversy upon the ruling of the chair as to the propriety of the order over the reading of the journal. Immediately after the prayer by the chaplain, Mr. Catchings, of the committee on rules, asked for immediate consideration of the order. To this Mr. Tracy, of New York, objected on the ground that it was not in order until after the journal had been read. Upon this Speaker Crisp ruled that the order was in order at that time, from which Mr. Tracy appealed and supported his appeal in an emphatic and impassioned speech. He was followed by Mr. Fitch, his colleague, who said that there was much to be said in his state now upon the subject of snap judgment and snap convention and when we are met, as we have been met here today, with a proposed snap consideration of this order, you (addressing the free silver men) will meet as you deserve with an emphatic protest.

Mr. Bland said he had viewed these proceedings with amazement. Last Tuesday he had been approached by Mr. Cochrane, of New York, and Mr. Andrew of Massachusetts, and asked to agree to a postponement of the vote on the question until Monday next (today), they promising to have their associates present and proceed to a vote today without filibustering. Now the opponents of the silver bill proceeded to filibuster and the speaker had to make a decision. A controversy then ensued between the speaker and Mr. Tracy over the right of the latter to have an hour of discussion of his appeal and yield such portion of that time as he desired to other members.

Hurricane at Lisbon.

LISBON, March 7.—The hurricane of yesterday did immense damage, unroofed houses and leveling trees and causing great destruction to the harbor. Six persons were killed and many injured by falling walls and chimneys. The river Tagus is rising and is full of floating debris, making navigation almost impossible.

Mr. Springer's Condition.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Dr. Vincent, Representative Springer's physician, said this morning that his patient had passed a comparatively comfortable night and was better this morning. He continues to improve and at this hour his condition is reported to be much more gratifying than it was last night. Dr. Vincent is very hopeful of the patient's recovery.

ALLIQUÉ BLOCK BURNED.

Superior has a $75,000 Fire This Morning.

West Superior was visited by a very disastrous fire this morning and as a result the stately and handsome brick and stone AlliQUÉ flats at the corner of Second street and Towner avenue are a mass of smoking debris, a tall chimney alone remaining intact. The fire was discovered in the basement shortly before 9 o'clock and an alarm was turned out, followed by a general alarm at 9:30. Although the hour was quite late, yet a number of the 10 families of tenants were not all asleep, and the scenes during the early stages of the burning were thrilling in the extreme. Luckily all men and women were seen rushing into the street, and eight ladies were assisted down the fire escapes. One small boy had his leg injured by a fall, but there were a number of very narrow escapes. The building was erected two years ago by Alex. Snow, but was sold last fall to other parties for $55,000, the original cost being something over $60,000. There was an insurance of $40,000 on the building. The value of personal property destroyed is estimated at $20,000, and there was only $6000 insurance. The structure was supposed to be fire-proof, but burned with a rapidity that do great service in determining the line of certain rock formations, but as every range has its own peculiarities, the geologists must do the rest. Michigan copper and iron properties that have been condemned by geologists have since paid the owners in dividends to their owners, and it seems utterly impossible to determine what is not to be found in any given range. He expressed it as merely his own opinion, which might or might not prove correct, but he confidently predicted better finds farther south.

SEDUCER KILLED.

Book Printers Dissatisfied; Wool Spinners Also; Seditious Speech. BERLIN, March 7.—Several arrests were made today of persons who were engaged in yesterday's disturbances at Leipzig. Great discontent prevails among the working classes of that city, especially those engaged in wool spinning, although the leaders in Sunday's attempted outbreak are said to have been employees of the great Leipzig publishing house, which is the leading industry of the place. The workmen in the book business have for a long time been dissatisfied with wages and treatment and as they are generally more intelligent and better informed than the tradesmen in other lines they are usually looked up to as leaders in any popular movement. The socialist element is very strong among them and they are continually agitating more or less actively in favor of the socialist party. There are also in Leipzig a good number of extremists who look to revolution as the only remedy for popular wrongs. Of the crowd that gathered in the market place today a majority were wool spinners, led by printers and bookbinders.

They were not at first interfered with, but when one of the speakers spoke of royalty as bearing down too heavily on the people, and therefore not to be tolerated, the police thought it time for action. They marched in force to the market place pressing the crowd back without having to use their weapons. The workmen seemed at first stubborn and apparently inclined to resist, but concluded to retire without violence. Today the police are out in strong force and the streets are quiet.

Before His Death the Wounded Man Asserts His Innocence; The British Colony Believes Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—George C. Robinson, a well-known resident of Yokohama, Japan, was shot and killed, Feb. 13, by Lieut. Hetherington, of the United States navy, claiming criminal intimacy with his wife. Robinson on his deathbed denied having any criminal relations with Hetherington's wife.

LONDON, March 7.—A dispatch from Yokohama says that a serious division of feeling has arisen between the English and American colonies relative to the shooting of Robinson, the English banker, by Lieut. Hetherington. Under the existing treaties with Japan European countries and the United States have extra-territorial jurisdiction over criminals belonging to their respective nationalities. This jurisdiction Japan has for some time labored to abolish, but without success. In this case, however, they are not yet sufficiently convinced that Japanese justice is fitted for dealing with a night claimant, there will probably, judging from existing feeling, be reprisals in some form.

Robinson was very popular among the British colony and his friends claim that there was no good cause or excuse for Hetherington to shoot him. On the other hand, the case has already led to very strained relations between English and American society in Japan. The circumstances under which Lieut. Hetherington took the life of the alleged seducer of his wife would have justified any husband in acting as he did. On the other hand, Robinson's ante mortem statement denying that he had been guilty of any wrong and asserting that he had only flirted with Mrs. Hetherington has many believers and will, it is claimed, tell strongly against Hetherington on his trial.

The case is a most embarrassing one for the consular court. One usually confined to complaints against or by seamen or occasional acts of wrong doing by cosmopolitan vagabonds, the court is now embarrassed because the Japanese will watch it narrowly as a specimen of foreign justice which they are now losing no opportunity to criticize. The Japanese are deeply aggrieved because America and England have not consented to accept Japanese jurisdiction for their subjects, and they therefore, be delighted to be able to point to an alleged failure of justice.

DOMINION REVENUE CUTTERS. New Boats Built for Light Draft and Speed. No Victoria, B.C. OTTAWA, Ont., March 7.—Two new light revenue cutters are to be placed on the upper lakes by the Dominion government for the protection of the fisheries in those waters from depletion by the use of gill and pound nets, both of which the government has suggested that the old vessels should be removed and replaced by new boats of light draught and built for speed.

The new boats will be placed on Lake Superior and the other on Lake Huron, the old cutter being retained for the purpose of being used for coast service on the gulf of St. Lawrence for preventive work in connection with smuggling by French men from the Michigan and other islands. There will be no violation of old treaties in any way.

Grand Duke of Hesse Dying. BERLIN, March 7.—The Grand Duke Louis of Hesse shows no signs of improvement today. His breathing is labored and the attending physicians have the greatest fears. The grand duke's children have been notified of his condition and it is said that the Grand Duchess Elizabeth is hurrying from Moscow to reach the bedside of her dying father. The palace at Darmstadt was surrounded at an early hour by a multitude anxious to learn the latest regarding the condition of the ruler to whom they are deeply attached.

Trying to Shoot Her Husband. BROOKLYN, March 7.—Mrs. Minnie Platt was arrested last evening, charged by her husband, W. H. Platt, a retired naval engineer, with attempting to shoot him when they met on the street. She claims that a friend of Platt's pulled a pistol out of her pocket and then called a policeman and had her arrested. She says Platt has been trying to get her in trouble ever since he failed to get a divorce from her for alleged adultery.

There are also in Leipzig a good number of extremists who look to revolution as the only remedy for popular wrongs. Of the crowd that gathered in the market place today a majority were wool spinners, led by printers and bookbinders.

They were not at first interfered with, but when one of the speakers spoke of royalty as bearing down too heavily on the people, and therefore not to be tolerated, the police thought it time for action. They marched in force to the market place pressing the crowd back without having to use their weapons. The workmen seemed at first stubborn and apparently inclined to resist, but concluded to retire without violence. Today the police are out in strong force and the streets are quiet.

GONE INSANE.

A Young Wife's Horrible Discovery; Finds Her Husband's Dead Body.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 7.—John Traynor, of Coal Run in this county, a fire boss, entered the mine where he worked Friday as was his custom to examine the chambers and test the gas. He did not return and his young wife became very anxious. The next morning she was missing. Diligent search in the village failed to reveal any trace of her and it is generally supposed that the loss of her husband had unbalanced her mind and she had wandered to the mountains.

A party of nine surveyors who were examining some old workings Saturday afternoon entered an old breast close to the leading English mine and given the cut direct to their American acquaintances, especially of the official class. As English influences are predominant in Japan the situation also affects unfavorably American relations with the natives. Hetherington's friends are making efforts to secure evidence that will place him right in the eyes of the foreign element and give reason for his act to both the Americans and English will regard as satisfactory. They hope to prove that Robinson was guilty of his conquests of the other sex and that Mrs. Hetherington was not the only victim of his whims and that the circumstances under which Lieut. Hetherington took the life of the alleged seducer of his wife would have justified any husband in acting as he did. On the other hand, Robinson's ante mortem statement denying that he had been guilty of any wrong and asserting that he had only flirted with Mrs. Hetherington has many believers and will, it is claimed, tell strongly against Hetherington on his trial.

MURDER IN GEORGIA.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 7.—Dr. M. W. Peck, of Chattanooga, Ga., is in jail charged with the murder of Thomas, a neighbor. The men quarreled on Tuesday last week about a fence which separated the two farms. Thomas finally started toward the doctor with an open knife, but Peck was too quick for him and shot him in the right side. While awaiting the arrival of the doctor, Peck kept guard of the man, and when Thomas was removed to his home he refused the aid of other physicians that had been summoned, expressing more confidence in the skill of his own assistant. Peck worked hard to save Thomas' life, but failed, and the latter died yesterday.

Legally Married at Last.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Burton C. Webster, the slayer of Broker Goocwin, and Evelyn Granville, who has been released from the Westchester county jail, have had the common law contract between them supplemented by a formal marriage ceremony. The ceremony took place on Washington's birthday, but the fact only leaked out yesterday.

Proceedings Against Kentucky Lotteries.

LOUISVILLE, March 7.—Attorney General Hendrick announced last night that quo warranto proceedings would be instituted against the Kentucky lotteries today. The headquarters and main offices are in Louisville and the lotteries are in Kentucky. This is in accordance with a law passed by the legislature, the charters have been declared repealed and void.

Fatally Stabbed.

NEW YORK, March 7.—William McGinn was fatally stabbed last night by Mary Himpler in Brooklyn. The two were visiting at the house of Mary Wiegand, 165 Siegel street, where it is said a quarrel began. Miss Himpler seized a knife and drove the blade through McGinn's breast. He died shortly after.

SILVER DEBATE.

The World's Fair Managers Will Ask for an Appropriation of $7,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The debate upon the order from the committee on rules setting apart March 22, 23 and 24 for the consideration of the Bland silver bill was prefaced by a lively parliamentary controversy upon the ruling of the chair as to the propriety of the order over the reading of the journal. Immediately after the prayer by the chaplain, Mr. Catchings, of the committee on rules, asked for immediate consideration of the order. To this Mr. Tracy, of New York, objected on the ground that it was not in order until the journal had been read. Upon this Speaker Crisp ruled that the order was in order at that time, from which Mr. Tracy appealed and supported his appeal in an emphatic and impassioned speech. He was followed by Mr. Fitch, his colleague, who said that there was much to be said in his state now upon the subject of snap judgment and snap convention and when we are met, as we have been met here today, with a proposed snap consideration of this order, you addressing the present and proceeding to a vote today without filibustering. Now the opponents of the silver bill proceeded to filibuster in violation of the agreement made. A controversy then ensued between the speaker and Mr. Tracy over the right of a latter to have the right of discussion of his appeal and yield such portion of that time as he desired to other members.

Mr. Tracy finally resented the attempt of the chair as he expressed "to take him off the floor and said he did not want to be looked at in that way whereas there was a great laugh. The matter passed over without a decision by the chair upon the point involved finally.

THE LONGYEAR PARTY.

After an interesting Pilgrimage the Tourists Return.

John M. Longyear, the Marquette millionaire iron man, and Russell Bennett, of Minneapolis, returned from the Mesaba range today five days ago and took a sleigh ride the whole length of the Mesaba, visiting their camps on the way, and coming back on the Winnipeg.

Mr. Longyear when seen at the Spaulding by a Herald representative, said there was no question as to the quantity of ore, the point of interest now being its quality. He expressed surprise that more assays had not been made, and said he should at once secure analyses of samples from several different properties. As the ores can be cheaply mined, he thought they could be profitably worked where they showed as high as 55 per cent metallic iron, and certainly so in the Bessemer limit, as they unquestionably are. Red and brown hematites usually require 10 or 12 cubic feet of the ore to make a ton, but the ores he saw on the Mesaba seemed somewhat lighter and he thought they would go about 12 cubic feet to the ton. Mr. Longyear thinks the best ores on the Mesaba have not yet been discovered, and that they will be found farther to the south. He is working on that theory in his own explorations, but admits that if Professor Winchell's theory of secondary deposits is true the best ores are already opened up and that he himself is not in it to any great extent. Geologists do great service in determining the line of certain rock formations, but as every range has its own peculiarities, the explorers must do the rest. Michigan copper and iron properties that were completely changed by geologists have since paid millions in dividends to their owners, and it seems utterly impossible to determine what is not to be found in any given location. He expressed it as merely his own opinion, which might or might not prove correct, but he could not predict better finds farther south.

Mining Stocks.

The new Mining Stock exchange at room 102 Chamber of Commerce is now doing a large and rapidly-increasing business owing to the careful attention paid to the wants of its patrons. The main feature of a mining stock exchange is the reliability and character of the gentlemen comprising the company. These essential elements are found in this company, as can be perceived by the personnel of the gentlemen forming the same. The members of this exchange are: W. B. Merritt, Jas. M. McKinley, C. D. Dixon, E. B. Linnen, F. A. Root, M. W. McDonough, D. S. Ferry, G. B. Nobles, H. C. Withrow—all gentlemen well known in this city and to the business community, especially for their integrity and judicious business character. The Duluth iron mining stock exchange deals in all kinds of iron mining stocks and can be easily invested in. The company gives references to all their patrons which guarantee that all moneys sent to them for investment will be judiciously placed and the returns promptly made. It is now receiving a large amount of Eastern money for investment in mining stocks and has a number of correspondents who are anxious to invest. Stocks listed will be sold or bought at the best prices and the returns promptly made. TO BE TRIED IN DUBLIN.

To Avoid Religious Prejudice Mrs. Montagu to be Tried at Dublin.

DUBLIN, March 6.—The case of Mrs. Anne Margaret Montagu, daughter-in-law of Lord Montagu, accused of causing the death of her infant daughter by cruel and inhuman punishment, has been removed for trial to Dublin. This has been done in deference to a feeling that as a convert to the catholic from the protestant religion, she could not get justice in the county of Derry where the alleged crime was committed and where the Orange element is very strong.

The Rev. Father Macdonald, priest of the parish of Coleraine, asserted from the pulpit that Mrs. Montagu was being persecuted on account of her change of faith, and that the protestant local authorities were determined to punish her, irrespective of the merits of the charge and the evidence in support of it. This allegation of the priest was met by indignation and a strong feeling that the government felt that the case could not have an unprejudiced hearing in Derry. Hence the decision to remove it to Dublin, where the case will come up at the next assizes.

TO RECONQUER THE SOUDAN.

The New Khedive Proposes an Invasion; The People Ripe for the Change.

ALEXANDRIA, March 7.—News from Egypt is to the effect that the new khedive intends to begin his reign in a brilliant way by regaining the Soudanese empire which was lost to Egypt with the rebellion of the mahdi and the fall of Khartoum. The latest information from the Soudan indicates that an invasion, properly organized and commanded, would not fail of success; that the people are ripe for a change and that the Egyptians would be welcomed by the masses of the inhabitants as deliverers from an intolerable tyranny.

Memphis Riot.

MEMPHIS, March 7.—Four more negroes implicated in Saturday night's riot and shooting were arrested this morning. The police now have 31 prisoners and a stock of firearms. The eye of Officer Cole will be extracted. Some of the leaders escaped to the swamps of Arkansas. A letter written by Calvin McDowell, leader of the rioters, to his sweetheart tells that he was at the head of an organization that intended to shoot down every white man that incurred the enmity of any negro in his society.

Hurricane at Lisbon.

LISBON, March 7.—The hurricane of yesterday did immense damage, unroofing houses and leveling trees and causing great destruction to the harbor. Six persons were killed and many injured by falling walls and chimneys. The river Tagus is rising and is full of floating debris, making navigation almost impossible.

Mr. Springer's Condition.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Dr. Vincent, Representative Springer's physician, said this morning that his patient had passed a comparatively comfortable night and was better this morning. He continues to improve and at this hour his condition is reported to be much more gratifying than it was last night. Dr. Vincent is very hopeful of the patient's recovery.

ALLOUEZ BLOCK BURNED.

Superior Has a $75,000 Fire This Morning.

West Superior was visited by a very disastrous fire this morning and as a result the stately and handsome brick and stone Allouez flats at the corner of Seventeenth street and Tower avenue are a mass of smoking debris, a tall chimney alone remaining intact. The fire was discovered in the basement shortly before 9 o'clock and an alarm was turned in, followed by a general alarm at 9:30. Although the hour was quite early, yet a number of the families of tenants were not all asleep, and the scenes during the early stages of the burning were thrilling. Scarcely clad men and women were seen rushing into the street, and eight ladies were assisted down the fire escapes. One small boy had his leg injured by a fall, but there were a number of very narrow escapes. The building was erected two years ago by Alex. Stowe, but was sold last fall to other parties for $55,000, the original cost being something over $60,000. There was an insurance of $40,000 on the building. The value of personal property destroyed is estimated at $20,000, upon which there was only $5000 insurance. The structure was supposed to be fire-proof, but burned with a rapidity that belies the claim. Every wall was crumbled into ruin at a little after 12 o'clock. The firemen did very poor work on account of the inadequate water supply, no pressure being found in any of the 10 streams until the steam fire engine arrived about 10:30, when it was too late to do any good.

Parties desiring to purchase iron mining stocks should visit Duluth and look over the iron fields themselves. There is no need of purchasers making any mistakes in the selection of iron stocks. All they need to do is to come to Duluth and I will show them over the cost of a cent to them for their trip on the range. These properties are in easy access from Duluth and can be seen in a single day's trip. I am always extremely glad to extend this courtesy to any other within my power to all intending investors in iron stocks. Frank I. Tedford, 610 and 611 Laramie buildings, Duluth, Minn., iron lands and mining stocks.

FOUND A FORGER.

Detective Hayden Arrests Yesterday an Alleged Clever Crook.

Detective Hayden arrested and placed behind the bars yesterday John Sundberg on a charge of forgery.

The story of the case is a rather interesting one. During the holiday season Sundberg is alleged to have passed at Burrows clothing store a check for $38. Part of this sum he received in goods and the change in cash. Later events aroused the suspicions of the clothing men and Sundberg was caught.

The check was a forgery, they reported the matter to the police. Detective Hayden at once arrested Sundberg, and took him to the store, where he was left in charge of three of the clerks while Hayden went to find Chas. Yeager, by whom it was said the check was signed. While he was away Sundberg gave the clerks the slip and made good his escape. This was in December and since then the alleged forger has kept himself very scarce. The check in the mean time was proved a forgery and another for $23, the work of the same hands, also turned up.

Sundberg was hustled for but did not appear until last Saturday, when Hayden ran across him on the street and at once took him into custody. It is said that the forgery of both checks can be brought home to him. No complaint had been filed this morning, but one will be some time today. Sundberg is a carpenter and has been employed by Iver Wisted. He was formerly a resident of Minneapolis, but is never known to have done any "crooked" work there.

"Not a Happy Lot."

The lot of a humane officer is not a happy one always. Some days ago "Humane Henry" discovered a wandering horse on Lake avenue and so put the beast out of his misery shot it. His kindness, however, was not appreciated by the owner of the animal and he began suit to recover the value of the animal. The case came on for hearing this afternoon.

WHO WILL SUCCEED?

Mayor d'Autremont Will Name His Appointees at Tonight's Council Meeting.

As Yet There is no Certainty as to Who Will be the Successful Candidates.

Horgan Can be Chief of Police, but Does Not Desire to Fill the Place.

The appointments of the new administration are to be made tonight, but even as The Herald goes to press no official announcement as to any of them has as yet been made. Mr. d'Autremont has been so bothered by office seekers that he fears to give out any of his appointments lest he should be mobbed by disappointed politicians. There is some dissatisfaction with the course taken by Mr. d'Autremont among prominent democrats, though no one denies to the mayor the right to make any appointments he sees fit.

It is the favorite today for chief of police, and it is said he will be appointed. This appointment more than any other will antagonize the large democratic element. The Herald, however, from all that can be learned, has no reason to change the opinion that Dan Horgan can be chief if he so desires. If not Horgan, it will probably be Farrell.

If Horgan is not promoted, probably all of the minor offices of the department will remain unchanged. If he goes up a grade the others will all profit.

In regard to Shaw there is also some dissatisfaction. He will be nominated for assessor, and the claim is made that the mayor is not acting in good faith and that he would not nominate Shaw if he thought he could be confirmed. There is no doubt that he will be strongly opposed in the council and a confirmation is not probable. For member of the board of public works Tom Clark is most prominently mentioned and is the probable appointee. The mayor has also to appoint two councilmen to act as members of the health board. Alderman Long will probably succeed himself and C. O. Nelson will be succeeded by one of the new members. Building Inspector Robinson is likely to retain his present office.

The mayor will also tonight present his first message. It will contain several recommendations to the council and will be a working plan rather than an outline of general policy. The pressure brought to bear upon Mayor d'Autremont has been very strong and the number of applicants for every position has been very large. It cannot but be that tonight there will be very many disappointed democrats. The council will also have a little difficulty to settle, that of the city attorney. It will be a close fight but Mr. Greene is probably the successful man. Frank Burke will be re-elected on the first ballot.

In the municipal court no changes will be made until April 1.

The Markets.

An active market prevailed here early in the session. Sales were made in large lots of cash No. 1 northern track wheat to the mills at $3 1/2 @ $3 1/4. The early weakness was due to weaker cables reporting Liverpool 10¢ off and Paris off 3/16 on wheat and 5/16 on flour. After the early break a reaction followed.

Cash No. 1 hard closed at 83 1/2¢. Track wheat steady at 83 1/2¢. Cash No. 1 northern closed at 82¢ in store and 81 1/2¢ on track. Cash No. 2 northern closed at 75¢. No grade 72 1/2¢. No. 3 spring closed 75¢. Rejected wheat closed 1¢ off at 58¢. March 1 hard closed at 83 1/2¢. March 1 northern closed at 82¢. May No. 1 hard closed dull at 82¢. May No. 1 northern sold early at 87 1/2¢, slumping to 86 1/2¢ in the first minutes, followed by a rise to 87 1/2¢ and eased off to close at 86 1/2¢.

DECLINE IN TRADE.

The President of the London Associated Chamber of Commerce Deplores the Decline

Official Residence of Prof. Copeland, Scotch Astronomer Royal, Destroyed.

The Duke of Cumberland Can't Be Reconciled to the Loss of the Throne of Hanover.

LONDON, March 8.—At a meeting to-day of the association of the commerce the address of the president, tributed the decline of British trade in 1891 largely to the political and commercial situation in South America. He believed that the present receptive capacity of the world's market had been reached by the supply and the immense increase in British exports. The shipping raised an outlook far from pleasing. He feared that the increase would outrun the powers of employment for the capital invested and that it was likely that the shipping would have to wait a long time for satisfactory profits.

The address made a decided impression and his sentiments were received with general approval by the representatives of business men in all parts of Great Britain.

FIRE IN EDINBURGH.

Official Residence of Professor Copeland, Astronomer Royal, Destroyed.

LONDON, March 8.—The destruction by fire last night of the official residence of Professor Copeland, the Scottish astronomer royal, was attended by thrilling scenes. The residence is in the fashionable quarter of Edinburgh and is a favorite resort for the writers and scientists of the modern Athens. The professor and his family were sleeping soundly when aroused by the cry of fire. The inmates at the time were Professor Copeland, Mrs. Copeland and their three children, Miss Phillips, a visitor, and several servants. The flames, the origin of which has not yet been discovered, were gaining such rapid headway that the family had no chance to escape by the stairs and sheets and blankets were twisted into use as ropes to enable them to descend to the ground, which fortunately was not far from the ground. The children were dropped into the arms of a sturdy fireman, who received them safely and the cheers of the crowd that gathered to the scene. Professor Copeland remained to the last assisting his family's exit and then descended himself.

The firemen worked with the greatest energy, apart from the saving of human life for the library of the professor, which is the property of the nation, and is priceless in its value on astronomical subjects. The library was saved and the fire extinguished without the complete destruction of the mansion.

THE GUELPH FUND.

The Duke of Cumberland Will Not Compromise His Claims to the Throne of Hanover.

BERLIN, March 8.—The duke of Cumberland has made a statement in regard to his refusal to accept the Guelph fund in compromise of his claims to the throne of Hanover. He declares that he cannot consent to forfeit the rights of his family or to enter into any understanding not to maintain those rights should opportunity offer.

The Hamburg Nachrichten says that if Prince Bismarck should make public the manner in which the Guelph fund had been applied those persons attacking him would experience an unpleasant surprise.

UNION PACIFIC ELECTION.

Old Board Re-Elected; Slight Increase in Net Earnings.

St. Louis, March 8.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific was held at the general office of the company in the Equitable building at 9 o'clock this morning. The directors of the past year were re-elected. The annual report of the first vice president and general manager was submitted, showing gross earnings of the system, $5,501,665; operating expenses, $3,445,455; net earnings, $2,056,210, an increase in net earnings for the year of $46,117. Springer Practically Disabled.

New York, March 8.—A Washington special to the press says: Mr. Springer's important chairmanship of the ways and means committee is practically at an end. Dr. Vincent said yesterday that even should his patient begin to rally at once and continue to improve, from this time on it would be impossible for him to attend to any business for the next two months. Dr. Vincent declares that under the most favorable circumstances Mr. Springer could not leave his house within the next three weeks. After that time he would be able to attend to his duties for five weeks. According to this program, therefore, Mr. Springer has practically concluded his services as chairman of the ways and means committee for this session of congress for tariff bills will be entirely disposed of by the end of April.

Row Between Actors.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Felix Morris, stage manager and leading man of Rosin Vokes' company, did not enter into his duties with much zest last night. It is even surprising that he assumed them at all. His dexterity with grease paint and powder was first necessary to disguise a number of large, round bumps which supplemented his natural assortment of features, and the skill of a Turkish bath masseur was also needed to eliminate the further effects of a session of the most famous of the city.

Mr. Morris was attacked and beaten by Sidney Bell Saturday night. Mr. Bell claims that the inmates at the time were Professor Copeland, Mrs. Copeland and their three children, Miss Phillips, a visitor, and several servants. The flames, the origin of which has not yet been discovered, were gaining such rapid headway that the family had no chance to escape by the stairs and sheets and blankets were twisted into use as ropes to enable them to descend to the ground, which fortunately was not far from the ground. The children were dropped into the arms of a sturdy fireman, who received them safely and the cheers of the crowd that gathered to the scene. Professor Copeland remained to the last assisting his family's exit and then descended himself.

Dastardly Attempt.

MILAN, March 8.—An attempt was made Sunday night to wreck a Louisville & Nashville passenger train near Stanton, Tenn. The train was a high rate of speed and just before reaching the long trestle east of Stanton, the engineer saw an obstruction on the track, but was unable to stop the train. The pilot of the engine was knocked off and the engine derailed. There were no passengers on board and they were badly shaken up by the shock. An investigation showed that heavy timber had been placed on the trestle supports projecting above the track over two feet.

The Hotchkiss Suit Settled.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 8.—The famous Hotchkiss suit which has been over so long, and in answer to Fitzsimmons' challenge says he is willing to box Fitzsimmons in either England or America, has been settled out of court. The fact was not made known until yesterday when it was reported that the settlement of the $125,000 estate of the late Benjamin Lerkeley Hotchkiss, the inventor of the well known gun of that name who died in Paris in 1885.

Pritchard and Fitzsimmons.

New York, March 8.—A special cable dispatch received at the Police Gazette office yesterday from London says that Pritchard in answer to Fitzsimmons' challenge says he is willing to box Fitzsimmons in either England or America, has been settled out of court. WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the house today McMillin gave notice that he would call up the free wool bill tomorrow. The ways and means committee had instructed him to ask consideration tomorrow of the tariff question. On motion of Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, who announced the death of his colleague, John W. Kendall, the house agreed to adjourn in respect of the memory of its late member. The speaker announced as a committee to accompany Mr. Kendall's body to Kentucky: Mr. Paynter, of Kentucky; Mansur, of Missouri; Amerman, of Pennsylvania; Bailey, of Texas; Owens, of Ohio; Wilson, of Kentucky; Belknap, of Michigan. The committee will leave at 10 o'clock tomorrow. The house then adjourned until tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the senate Mr. Squire presented a petition from the chamber of commerce of Port Townsend, Wash., setting forth that the present condition of the fishing sea fisheries question worked the greatest hardship to American fishermen and praying that the fisheries of those seas be thrown open. Mr. Squire said he regarded this as a matter of great importance and asked that it be referred to the committee on foreign relations. It was so ordered. Mr. Stanford, of California, introduced a bill to increase the duty on opium to $5 a pound.

The special pension investigation of the house convened at 12 o'clock today and proceeded with its examination of witnesses. Assistant Secretary Chandler, of the interior department, was the first witness. After telling the committee of his official relations with the interior department, the resignation of young Raum was brought up and his connection in the matter was explained to the committee. Judge Chandler said he had never received charges against young Raum receiving money for illegal transactions. Mr. Enloe asked witnesses if he had any of the pension office who was interested in the reorganizing company. Judge Chandler said that he knew in regard to the matter was what he read in the newspapers. He never knew of any one nor did he have any conversation with Gen. Bussey.

Gen. Schofield's Narrow Escape.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Gen. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the army of the United States, had a narrow escape from death this morning. He was on his way to his office in the war department and the carriage had just entered the driveway when it was struck by a delivery wagon of the American Express company and overturned. The general was somewhat bruised by the fall, but he escaped without serious injury. The driver of the wagon was killed and the general was at his desk as usual during the morning. It was a very narrow escape, however, and good judgment by the coachman that a fatal result was averted.

Big Shortage.

WASHINGTON, Ind., March 8.—The experts employed to investigate the books of the county auditor's office have at last finished their task and find, Auditor James C. Lavelle's short. A part of this, $2,500, Lavelle's old mother has made good. The shortage consists in illegal allowances and gifts to friends, one of which was a bogus bribe contract. Lavelle is now under indictment for bribery in court house last November just after the experts had been employed.

PROVED TO BE A BONANZA.

Wisconsin Men Interested in a Rich Minnesota Iron Mine.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., March 7.—Last fall W. W. Potter, of this city, and Harry Mee and James Sheridan, of Duluth, bought of A. J. McGilvray, of this city, 40 acres of land in township 58, range 17 west, in St. Louis county, Minn., for $540. It was valuable, as all parties supposed, for its pine timber only, but recently a party of prospectors discovered an iron mine upon the land and have obtained a lease of it for one year, paying $10,000 down and binding themselves to pay to the owners of the land 30 cents per ton for every ton of ore removed. Messrs. Potter and Sheridan are beginning to think they have a bonanza.

MORE SPORTING BLUFF.

Sullivan Wants to Get at Mitchell; Corbett's Challenge a Bluff.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 8.—Duncan B. Harrison is doing all the talking for Sullivan today. Sullivan himself will not say a word about the Corbett challenge. The United Press representative saw Harrison at the West this morning and the pugilist's theatrical partner said he would talk for John. He was asked what Sullivan proposed to do about Corbett's challenge.

"Oh, that's all a bluff," was the reply. "Yes, but the money is up. That is pretty nearly business is it not?"

"Well, Corbett will get all the chances he want in good time, but the man we are now after is Mitchell. Now let us see what he will do."

"Well Brady offers $5000 forfeit for Corbett. If Sullivan thinks Jim is such a mark he ought to take that in some night after the show."

"We are as I have said dealing with Mitchell now. When we are through with him there will be time enough to engage these other fellows. None of them want to fight anyhow. They are all fakes."

Wall was arrested and confessed the crime. When he came up for trial he pleaded insanity. He was convicted, however.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Decision Filed; Another Incline Damage Case.

A decision was filed today in the case of Allen Moon & Co. vs. Thos. Dunmore, a suit brought to recover on two notes made in 1882. The findings are for the defendant. Harriet Wilkins has begun suit against the Duluth Street Railway company to recover $10,000 alleged damages to her property because of the severe street incline. She is the owner of lot 111, at the corner of Third street and Seventh avenue west. The complaint alleges that by reason of the building of the elevated roadway, she had been deprived of the use of that thoroughfare; that she is now obliged to carry all wood, coal, water and provisions up about 40 steps. She also alleges that but for the building of the incline she could have divided her property into four residence lots fronting on the avenue, all of which would have been accessible. These would have been worth $10,000.

AN OLD CASE SETTLED.

Thos. J. Walsh Given Title to a Tract of Valuable Land.

In the case of John McKinley vs. Thos. J. Walsh, a case which has been pending for nine years, Secretary Noble today made a decision in favor of Mr. Walsh. The case involved lots 3 and 4, and the 5% of n.w. section 4, 61-15. Six decisions have been rendered in the case by the land office two being by secretaries of the interior and all have been in favor of Mr. Walsh, who pre-empted the property in 1882. The property consists of 160 acres and lies adjoining the city of Tower on one side and the Minnesota Iron company's holdings on the other. The property is a very valuable one, worth at least $100,000, and the present decision is a final settlement of the affair.

The telegram received by Mr. Walsh today reads: "Secretary decides today in your favor in a strong decision."

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 8.—The pressure over the country is below normal with two distinct centers, one over the extreme Northwest and one over Ohio, and the low over the Ohio storm and rain is just beginning to fall on the front of the Northwestern one.
Temperatures still remain high, although there has been a fall of a few degrees at the coast northern station. The lowest is 65 at Prince Albert, N. W. T., the highest 82 at Fort Assiniboine, Minn.
Thermometers reached 52 degrees in this city yesterday, falling again during the night to degrees.

DULUTH, March 8.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 9: Fair, probably lowered by rain; fair and colder Wednesday.
B. H. HANCOCK, Observer.

THE MUNICIPAL APPOINTMENTS.
The city council last night elected Frank Burke city clerk for another year and chose S. L. Smith city attorney for the same time. Mayor d'Auteurom sent in the nominations of Capt. Dan Horgan for chief of police, J. K. Shaw for city assessor, and Capt. James Farrell for member of the board of public works to succeed W. W. Davis, whose term expires this spring.

The council being largely republican, it was natural and proper that Frank Burke, who has been city clerk but one year and has displayed much fitness for the position, should be continued. It was but a just recognition of his services. And it would also have been in order to continue S. D. Allen as city attorney had he desired the place. H. F. Greene was the democratic candidate, and on one ballot received more than his party strength, but the odds and the gods were against him. S. L. Smith, the successful candidate, was city attorney for three years under the Surphault administration and returns to the public service well equipped for its duties. The Herald would have been pleased to see Mr.
Greene elected, but is consoled with the thought that in such an effort the fellow who doesn't succeed is the most successful.

No one can complain of the mayor's appointments. Capt. Dan Horgan is advanced to the head of the police department, an act which will be approved even by the retiring administration. He has the fullest confidence of the men and will make an efficient chief. J. K.
Shaw who has been named for city assessor has the confidence of the entire public and will enter upon the duties of the office, for which he is specially fitted, with the universal good will. Capt. Farrell is an old time resident, a careful and judicious man, and will be at home on the board of works. Such disposition of the important offices has disarmed the opponents of the new administration and every one has become aware that the government is in wise and able hands.
Surely the mayor has begun right, and he has not done so by accident. Let the good work go on.

NEW WORLD'S FAIR COMMISSIONER.
As briefly announced in The Herald last night, Governor Merriam yesterday afternoon appointed H. B. Moore to succeed M. B. Harrison as World's fair commissioner from the state of Minnesota. This action was not a surprise as many of the governor's most ardent supporters here had endorsed Mr. Moore's candidacy, although it was not very well known just when the executive would reach a conclusion in the matter.

The appointment is a good one and the governor will have no cause to regret his action. In fact one could go right over the state and recommend the Cleveland appointees for place without making any very serious blunders. Mr.
Moore has been a resident of Duluth ever since the Zenith City got her second wind, was mayor of the city in 1881-5, and was collector of customs for this port under most of the Cleveland administration, resigning when Harrison was elected. He is first of all a loyal Duluthian, is conversant with the lumbering, mining and lake interests, and possesses all information necessary to make a valuable member of the commission, besides being a gentleman of pleasing address and general good fellowship. He is not so demonstrative and obtrusively partisan as some, an objection which a few democrats may possibly raise against him, but in a courteous, quiet way he will do effective work and make Duluth get there just the same.
We had lots of available timber to offer, and, indeed, the governor always has an easy task to find good men for the few democratic berths at his disposal, but it is nevertheless fit and proper that we should congratulate him on his appointment. The office is an honorary one, hardly paying the expenses of the commissioner, but Mr. Moore has means and leisure at his disposal and will devote his best energies to the alluring work.
We expect him to be more than fairly successful; he has the opportunity and will be superbly so.

Monday's vote in the House of Representatives on the order fixing March 22, 23 and 24 for consideration of the free coinage bill, showed a large majority of Democrats for the order. As reported by telegraph 131 Democrats, 49 Republicans and 9 Alliance men voted in the affirmative; 70 Democrats and 15 Republicans in the negative. This apparently shows that the free coinage Democrats have 60 majority over the anti-silver Democrats in the House. If this is a fair showing of the strength of the respective parties there will be a clear majority in the House for the Bland free-coinage bill even should the Republicans vote solidly against it.

CONSULAR COURTS.
Lieut. Jas. H. Hetherington, of the United States steamer Marion, who figures so unfortunately in the latest wife-shooting case abroad, is it appears, a native of Dubuque, Iowa. He is the only son of Henry S. Hetherington, secretary of a loaning association in that city. He is regarded as a thoroughly honorable but quick tempered man. Our telegraphic report stated that he would be tried in the consular court at Japan.
This is no doubt the course the case will take, though another theory is that he will be brought to San Francisco and be tried by court martial there, as he is a prisoner on the Marion.

The procedure in consular courts grows out of the unwillingness of civilized nations to allow their citizens to be sued or prosecuted in the tribunals of semi-civilized countries. In most of these the processes of justice are so crude, and the danger of injustice so great, that the civilized powers insist, and have arranged by treaty for the trial of all civil or criminal cases against their citizens before their own consuls or ministers. Hence an American who has committed an offence in Japan, either against a native or a foreigner, can only be tried before the United States consul or minister.

In the Revised Statutes of the United States, section 482 and the sections following, provision is made for carrying into effect treaties between this country and China, Japan, Siam, Egypt and Madagascar. By these statutes our ministers and consuls in those countries are given jurisdiction of all offences committed there by citizens of the United States.
Consuls are empowered to issue their warrants for the arrest of such criminals and may proceed to their trial. In cases involving over $100 fine or 60 days' imprisonment appeal lies to the minister who, it appears, may take original cogni-tance of the more serious crimes. The consul may, in important cases, summon four competent, reputable citizens of the United States to sit with him for trial of the case.

In cases like that under consideration appeal lies to the minister, who in every capital case issues the warrant for execution.

In cases arising in China or Japan an appeal lies for review of questions of law to the United States Circuit Court of California. In case, too, a minister should sentence the accused to death, he may, if he finds mitigating circumstances, submit the case to the President for pardon.

The special feature of this form of trial by consuls or ministers seems to be that there is no provision for trial by jury. The summoning in by a consul of four competent and reputable citizens seems the nearest approach towards the jury trial.

WE TOLD YOU SO.
There was severe criticism of The Herald by good and well-meaning citizens of Duluth because of its position in the recent municipal campaign. We received it all in the gentle spirit in which it was given, abidingly satisfied that a little time would set things right.
To say that The Herald was endorsed by Mayor d'Auteurom's message to the city council last night is putting it serenely mild. His position on the so-called white open policy as related to the unlicensed sale of liquors, the sale of liquors to minors, gambling, houses of assignation, and other cognate vices, was clearly foretold in the campaign utterances of The Herald. We were confident that such would be his policy, and it is now time for those religious leaders who malign him, to offer the new executive their congratulations and retraction. They meant well, and The Herald is just as glad as it can be to forgive them, but they didn't possess the facts in fee and, to be brief, assumed and alleged what they didn't know. That Mayor d'Auteurom would give Duluth a clean, vigorous and economical administration was plain then and is demonstrated now. We doubt if those who so vigorously denounced him had ever a conversation with him on the matter of municipal government, and the humiliating feature of the affair is that our recognized moral teachers should blindly lend themselves to such a cause. It hurts and humiliates them in the eyes of good and thoughtful citizens. The Herald could not afford to advocate the candidacy of any man for mayor who, as charged, would give criminals the freedom of the city, and it didn't do so. We knew our grounds, made no statement without a full knowledge of the facts, had nothing to retract, and moreover are sufficiently endorsed.
Honesty is the best policy, even in a campaign.

City Attorney Allen who returns to private practice after two years of public service takes with him the utmost confidence of all who have come in contact with him in his official capacity. To the many local bills that came before the legislature last winter he gave the closest and most earnest attention, and in the matter of municipal consolidation his wise counsel did much to soften the asperities of the contest and bring about a satisfactory result. In the several cases of failures on the part of city contractors, in which many very delicate questions had to be passed upon, his advice was safe to the city and considerate to all concerned. He has filled the full measure of expectation and retires with high esteem to the more lucrative field of private life.

The Alliance and Democracy are said to have effected a fusion in Kansas. The former take the entire state ticket except the associate justice and five congressmen; the Democrats take three congressmen. In 1890 there was partial fusion. Counting on similar results to those of 1890, the arrangement proposed would sweep the state, but another "deluge" could not reasonably be expected.
Moreover a fusion ticket never pulls the full vote of the parties uniting in it.

The great Quebec election occurs today. Mercier seems to place his whole reliance on the French vote. The English-speaking Liberals will generally abandon him. It is a question of great practical importance to the future of the province outside its political bearings.
The present debt of the province is 34 millions, and Mercier's return to power is dreaded by intelligent voters of all parties.

At the regular meeting of the Lakeside village council last night, The Duluth Evening Herald was made the official paper of that suburb for the ensuing year. The Herald appreciates this kindly recognition and congratulates the village fathers on the wisdom of their choice.

The West Duluth blast furnace made 940 tons of pig iron last week, which is an average of over 134 tons a day. Duluth is becoming an iron center surrounding enough.

The date of the farewell banquet to be given Minister Reed, of France, has been fixed for March 24. Mr. Reed has been very popular socially.

It is claimed that the new Woodbridge gun will throw a projectile 15 miles. It is 27½ feet long with a bore of 12½ inches.

Dr. Parkhurst lectures a Point.
(Philadelphia Press.)
When Col. A. K. McClure, at a recent meeting of the Contemporary club in this city, shocked many of his hearers and startled most of them by declaring in an address on newspapers that the public was less reckless in its statements than the pulpit, he could have hardly anticipated the prompt illustration and example of his assertion, which we now present (furnished by Dr. Parkhurst, of New York).

Journalists blunder and make misstatements, but they very rarely happens that a journalist who has made a serious charge against a public officer finds himself with no audience to sus-tain his charges before a grand jury.
We cannot now recollect a single such case, and any newspaper editor who has been betrayed into printing such a charge would make a prompt retraction and apology, of which, we regret to say, Dr. Parkhurst gives no sign.

Mayor d'Auteurom's Appointments.
(Duluth Tribune.)

It is a happy and healthy condition of municipal affairs when the narrow bickerings of politics are ignored in the broader desire to protect and aid the honest administration of city affairs by the promotion of men who have shown themselves zealous and diligent in their positions have been entrusted to their care. This is the only solution of the problem of good government. It is in fact, the only way that that rare virtue can be attained. Too much praise cannot be accorded to Mayor d'Auteurom for the breadth and wisdom he has shown in his first public acts, and it is the fond hope of the Tribune that all of his future official movements may shine as brightly in the light of criticism.

Mayor d'Auteurom's Message.
(Duluth News.)

The general policy laid down will doubtless be a surprise to a good many who were counting on one of another kind. He wanted it understood, to use his own words, that "no wide-open policy will be pursued." In his particularization regarding the purely moral policy of the administration he speaks out plainly to the same effect. He promises to look to the sale of liquors to minors, to their illegal sale at any time or place, to restrict the social evil, and emphatically of all, to keep the gambling fraternity out of Duluth. When the supporters of Mayor Davis read his message they will doubtless imagine that they were awfully mixed up at the late election and voted for the wrong man.

TO HARD LABOR

Sullivan the Hero of a Novel; Reforms Himself and Then the Country. Chicago, March 9.—A Tribune special from Minneapolis says John L. Sullivan has been made the hero of an optimistic novel which quite outdoes Bellamy's "Looking Backward" or looking in any other direction. The book is by a Louisville newspaper man and pictures Sullivan as having stopped drinking. With this improbability as a basis the author proceeds to elect him to congress, where he gets bills passed appropriating $100,000,000 for the relief of the farmers, making instruction in physical culture a branch of the war department, etc. He is also nominated for president, but is shot while making a light against syndicates and trusts on the floor of the house. A revolution occurs and an empire is about to be established when John L., who has been nursed back to life, rescues liberty and saves the republic. Then he retires after making Chauncey Depew president.

The Wretched Woman Faints, Falls, and is Carried off to the Warden's Cells.

LONDON, March 9.—Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne was sentenced this morning in the central criminal court to nine months' imprisonment at hard labor for perjury and larceny in connection with the theft of jewels from her cousin, Mrs. Hargreaves.

On her arrival Mrs. Osborne was taken into the prisoners' waiting room, her husband by special permission being still with her. When her case was called she was conducted up the steps into the dock.

The case originated last December by a suit by Mrs. Osborne, lately Miss Ethel Elliot, against Major and Mrs. Hargreaves, of Torquay, for slander, imputing to her that she, while on a visit there, had stolen Mrs. Hargreaves' jewels. Mrs. Osborne was at the time of the theft the best of terms with Mrs. Hargreaves' family, the latter being in the price of Wales' set. Mrs. Hargreaves had very valuable jewels which she kept in a secret cabinet, and it is claimed that the secret of this cabinet was known only to her husband, to herself, and to a friend named Englehart, a rich bachelor friend and to Miss Elliot. Miss Elliot had a rich gown in connection with the jewelry, and it was claimed that the secret of this cabinet was known only to her husband, to herself, and to a friend named Englehart, a rich bachelor friend and to Miss Elliot. FISHERIES MUDDLE

The Correspondence Between the American and British Governments on the Question.

Goes to the House Today and the Details of the Negotiations are Made Public.

The Correspondence Shows the Great Difficulty Experienced by the American Diplomats.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Harrison today sent to congress the correspondence in the Bering sea matter which has accumulated since January, 1891, and some notes of the previous dates which have not hitherto been made public. It begins with a note from Mr. Blaine to Sir Julian Pauncefote May 1, 1891, in which he reviews the negotiations pending the result of arbitration and submits terms of agreement.

On the next day, May 5, Sir Julian acknowledged the above and mentioned the exception taken to the two conditions by which the right to kill a certain number of seals was reserved for the American company and the modus vivendi was not to be in force until arbitration was agreed upon. The proposal for a modus vivendi by the British government was submitted June 1. It contained the following stipulations:

1. The government of Great Britain and of the United States shall prohibit until May, 1892, the killing of seals in the Bering sea or off islands thereof.

2. During the period above specified the United States government shall have the right to kill 7500 seals.

3. Consuls may at any time be appointed to the islands in the Bering sea and the United States government will grant an "executor" to any such consuls.

4. Unless the assent of Russia be obtained to this convention it shall not come into effect.

The next day, June 4, Mr. Wharton, under directions of the President proposed substitutes for subdivisions 1 and 2 of the British proposal for modus vivendi and objects decidedly to the condition of the previous assent of Russia. The changes submitted by Mr. Wharton's note were:

1. The government of Great Britain shall prohibit until May, 1892, the killing of seals in all that part of the Bering sea lying east, eastwardly or southwardly of the line described in article 1 of the convention between the United States and Russia of date March 30, 1892.

2. The government of the United States shall prohibit until May, 1892, the killing of seals in that part of the Bering sea above described and on the shores and islands thereof, the property of the United States, in excess of 7500 to be taken on the islands.

In his reply Sir Julian Pauncefote objected to the proposition advanced by Mr. Blaine on the ground that it attributed special and unusual rights to the United States. To obviate this objection, Mr. Wharton was instructed to propose the following:

If the determination of the arbiters questions as to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States shall leave the subject in such respect that the convention of Great Britain is necessary to the establishment of regulations for the proper protection and the preservation of the fur seal in or habitually resorting to the Bering sea, the arbitrator shall then determine what concurrent regulations outside the jurisdictional limits of the respective governments are necessary and over what water such regulations should extend.

According to the clause providing for arbitration for the question of liability and compensation for the violation of United States rights in Bering sea under date of September 7, Mr. Wharton insisted that the President should insist that the question of liability must go to arbitration. In November Lord Salisbury raised another objection. Sir Julian Pauncefote informs Mr. Blaine that two reservations are desired, viz: That the necessity and nature of any regulations are left to the arbitrators and that such regulations will not become obligatory upon the United States and Great Britain until they have received the consent of the maritime powers.

To this Mr. Blaine replied that the minister had no objection to the extension of the arbiters' jurisdiction to the question of the fur seal in or habitually resorting to the Bering sea, and that the proposition of the arbitrator should be taken into consideration.

On Dec. 11 Sir Julian announces that he is authorized to sign the text of the treaty.

SEE THE CITY. Two Actions to Remove Begun This Morning.

Two suits to remove from the city of Duluth, aggregating about $2000 in the amount claimed, were begun this morning. The actions are brought by Joe Wolf and Zimmerman, Trux & Moore and are the result of a disagreement of long standing between the contractors and the board of public works. The suit of Joseph Wolf is for extra work done on Piedmont avenue and the claim is for $1200; the other is for extra work done on the second alley sewer and for $4888.

The plaintiffs allege that the extra work was done under the orders of the engineer's department and for reasons discovered by that department after the contract was made. He was finished a bill for the extra amount was put in, but it was not approved by the engineer who disputed the figures of the contract. Some part of the bill was paid and an effort made to adjust the balance by reducing the amounts due. No agreement could be reached, however, hence the suits which have now been begun.

Three Days More. Owing to the disagreeable day many are deprived of taking advantage of our great sacrifice sale, in our various departments, and have decided to continue the sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening, March 11 and 12, in the hope that the weather will be more propitious for the sale of our suits, furnishings goods and hats. Wheat Investigation. North Dakota Wheat Buyer Salaried to Keep Down Prices.

ST. PAUL, March 9.—The legislative wheat investigation resumed work at 3 p. m. yesterday. Gen. Barrett read a voluminous typewritten statement. His conclusions were that wheat would be from 20 to 25 cents higher, but for the Chicago board of trade, which, according to Senator Washburn, fixed the price of wheat for the world. He contended that the wheat crop of the Northwest under the present system was auctioned off in Chicago, much after the style of a sale of bankrupt goods.

He gave instances of buying up local dealers or compelling them to lower prices.

A contract was then offered between one C. C. Walcott, of Laramie, N. D., and the Minneapolis and Northern Elevator company. Under this contract Walcott gets a salary of $5000 a year.

The remarkable part of the contract was the section which provides for its cancellation. This section reads: "But it is agreed that in case any other elevator or warehouse shall be built at Laramie for the storage or handling of wheat during the said five years, or if said first party or any other person other than the regular wheat buyers now at Laramie, shall during said five years, purchase wheat at Laramie at above what is known as list prices," etc.

Then the contract contract was cancelled by the notice of W. W. Erwin, interested to say that this was giving a banker $25,000 in order to make it impossible for the farmer to realize more than the "list price" of wheat.

THE CABINET FIRM. In Their Reply to Lord Salisbury They Reaffirm the Original American Position.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Washington dispatch to the Herald says that during the cabinet meeting yesterday, President Harrison informed the members present that he had returned an answer to Lord Salisbury's note through Sir Julian Pauncefote yesterday.

It is understood that the answer reviewed the points in dispute and have reaffirmed the ownership of the United States in all the seals in Bering sea wherever found without regard to the former contention of a mare clausum and to have plainly intimated that but for England's delay the whole question might before this have been settled by arbitration.

During the interchange of opinions between the President and the members of his cabinet it was developed that in this as well as all other international disputes we must firmly maintain our national dignity.

The changes submitted by Mr. Wharton's note were:

1. The government of Great Britain shall prohibit until May, 1892, the killing of seals in all that part of the Bering sea lying east, eastwardly or southwardly of the line described in article 1 of the convention between the United States and Russia of date March 30, 1892.

The Weather.
 U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 9.—The storm which is now affecting this section, and is central between here and St. Paul, has moved rapidly down from the extreme Northwest, where it was first felt. Although there was not the first thing to have a forecast of cold weather, the cold wave has appeared, having moved down from a region from which no reports are received, and now dominates the Northwest, accompanied in many places by snow and ice received, with a cold of 24 miles per hour. Here, St. Paul, 12 miles, and the maximum velocity last night was 40 miles.

The lowest temperature recorded are 16° below zero at Duluth and Qu Appelle, and from that it ranges down to 25° below at St. Vincent.
 It is probable that snow will continue here today, followed by much colder weather and northerly gales.

The highest temperature yesterday was 45° below last night, 32°. Snowfall at 7 a. m. 2 inches.

DULUTH, March 9.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 10: Snow, steadily colder, northerly gales; fair, colder, Thursday.

IRRIGATION BY ARTESIAN WELLS.
 The N. Y. Sun has an interesting article regarding irrigation in the Dry West from which we take the following facts. Mr. Nettleton, of the Irrigation Bureau, has been investigating the great artesian basins of the arid lands of the West. He arrives at the conclusion that there is a large artesian basin underlying the Dakotas and having an area of 12,000 square miles. This has been shown by sinking artesian wells in various places throughout the basin. These flowing wells show an abundant supply of water in a thick stratum of sand, and Mr. Nettleton thinks there is a similar supply underlying eastern Florida.

Mr. J. R. Hinton, in the Irrigation Age, estimates that there are 14,000 flowing wells west of the 97th meridian, and that in the Dakotas 600,000 acres are thus irrigated, and 50,000 acres in California.
 Near San Bernardino is a group of 20 artesian wells which have converted 5,000 acres into valuable gardens. A single one of the larger wells will irrigate several hundred acres of trees and vines.

Many devices, such as tunneling into the base of a hill, or under a river, have been tried successfully. In California, where mountain rivers sink into the dry sands of a plain, dams have been sunk down to bed rock, and thus streams saved for irrigation which had before been irretrievably lost.

None of the authorities quoted in the Sun maintain that the face of these dry sections of the West can be changed by tapping their underground supplies of water, but they can be made to aid surface streams greatly, and to reclaim important portions of the arid West.

A SPECIMEN BOSS.
 In a letter addressed to the Cincinnati Republican Reform association, Senator Sherman, of Ohio, speaks of very frankly regarding the arrangement which recently gave control of the votes for U. S. senator of the Republic delegation to that city to a single party boss. He affirms the statement made in the newspapers at the time that "a decided majority of a delegation of ten Representatives and three Senators [from Hamilton county] were nominated for the Ohio Legislature, pledged before hand to vote for the person to be designated by the boss when the time came for the election of the Senator of the United States. His decision was carefully withheld until the election was over and was then announced. Senator Sherman further declares his belief that this vote was held for sale.

He further declares against the boss system,
 "The innumerable offices, employments, contracts and labor of a great city, and all the public improvements, are made to contribute to a great corrupt fund, which, used by a single manager, or, as is apt to be the case, by two managers, one of each party, tends to destroy the power of the people, to promote extravagance, to increase taxes, and finally to produce riots and violence.
 Whenever such methods appear in municipal governments it is the duty of good citizens, without respect to party, to depose the boss and enthrone the people."

It is the fact that not only the politics of great cities but of great states and of national administrations are managed in this corrupt way, which has given the "independent" vote such proportions of late years. The citizen is learning to do his duty bravely. But his entire duty is not done when he smashes the boss. He should smash the system which produces the boss. That system is the spoils system. So long as the offices are election spoils, so long will the boss be a great power in the land. A reform which shall take most of the offices out of politics is the only reform which will permanently remove the boss.

Much good has unquestionably resulted from the effort to reform the municipal philanthropy never wearying with making, nevertheless too much is often expected of institutions of this kind. It cannot be denied that the transmission of civil tendencies from parent to child is one of the hindrances to reform. Then, too, if the child is jealously guarded against, the association of vicious children with each other in large numbers, with no infusion of a better element, is a great danger.

In some cases it has turned so-called schools of reform into schools of vice. Unquestionably the younger children are when taken from vicious surroundings, the better their chance of reform. It would seem, too, as if the plan of distributing them in decent country families produced the best results. It cannot be too thoroughly impressed on the public mind, that the vicious parent has no right to bring up his child in vice. In doing so he not only sins against his innocent offspring, but against the state.

Duluth is always glad to welcome enterprising pilgrims to a place among her permanent population and write their names in the directory of a great people.
 The announcement of Beriah Magoffin, late from Kentucky, who for several years has been a Duluthian by brevet, that he will hereafter be one of us, is therefore cheerful news, and The Herald gladly promotes him to the full rank for gallant services. Mr. Magoffin is a typical Southern gentleman with a pleasing blue glass accent, and will be a most valuable addition to the ranks of our wealthy and enterprising citizens.

The "Guelph fund," about which there has been so much controversy in Germany, was a sum of money the King of Hanover had in bank at the time of the practical annexation of his kingdom to Prussia in 1866. Bismarck gobbled up the fund and the Emperor has had the income from it ever since. The blind King of Hanover, and the present Duke of Cumberland, his son, have uniformly refused to take this money and renounce the throne, and the Duke still refuses to give up his own rights and those of his infant son even for the magnificent bribe of twenty million dollars.

The senate had a long discussion of the Bering sea treaty in executive session yesterday. The Pacific senators, among others, are reported to be hostile to the treaty. Objections are made to its concessions, and also to the omission of any clause continuing the modus vivendi.
 Whether the opposition is so serious as to endanger the adoption of the treaty does not appear. The reply of our government to Lord Salisbury's note declining to renew the temporary arrangement for the protection of seal is said to take the ground that poachers will be promptly seized.

The Minneapolis Times states that the Chinese exclusion act expires by its own terms on May 6th; and that, if the law is not re-enacted by congress, the country will be practically open to Chinese immigration. The Times further declares that there is a horde of Chinese, laborers of the most objectionable class, located in Manitoba and at points along the Canadian Pacific railway between Winnipeg and Vancouver, who are awaiting a favorable opportunity to cross the line into the United States.

The National Democrat, of Washington, D. C., after about a year of incoherent desecration, again appears as large as life and as vigorous as ever. It is now backed by the National Democratic Publishing Association, and its mission will be that of a political renovator without guile. It did yeoman service in the educational campaign of 1890, and once more throws the gauntlet into the arena with much fervor and delight.

The result of yesterday's election in West Duluth was not in the nature of a surprise, as no one pretended to affirm with any great assurance who would be the choice. The boys were all a little shaky on their chances and even the winner seems to Rockwell. They will have one more whirl to themselves, but in '93 they will join hands with The Herald for a great cosmopolitan triumph.

Congressman Lind, of this state, has prepared a bill amending the interstate commerce law, so as to relieve shippers giving evidence against the railroads from prosecution.
 The design of the bill is to avoid the point made in the Combs case, and to make shippers witnesses against the corporations. As we understand the law, it now enables them to refuse to testify on the ground they make themselves liable to prosecution.

The weather today will not be unwelcome to the woodsman. And then, too, it gives a new and brighter glow to fire-side happiness. Besides, there are some of our state land leases that we don't want the flaky mantle to liquidate on too soon. There is a certain profundity of delight in the unknown. Let not the veil of mystery be too hastily withdrawn.

The season's cut of timber about Wi-nonna is much below the average. Snow has been long and logging has been carried on under great difficulties. It is now abandoned for the season. This has been the mildest season of many years, which is unfortunate for the lumber business. Today's snow may give the loggers another chance.

According to the state census, Brooklyn has a population of 555,310, an increase of 145,077 over the census of 1890. This is too big a difference for both to be accurate. Republicans will swear by one, and Democrats by the other. Both were partisan counts, and in cases involving party interests, neither party in New York can be trusted.

There was a queer election at Sioux City, Iowa, this week. Both parties, after having made many lying promises, nominated very objectionable candidates for mayor. The business men of the place then took the matter in hand, nominated good citizens' ticket and defeated both the regular nominees.

Congressman Henderson has telegraphed to the father of Lieut. Hetherington that he is informed by the department that his son will be tried by the American consul at Yokohama, Japan.

The King of Sweden has written to the president of the World's Congress Auxiliary intimating that he may visit the World's Fair in person. Should he come, he will be asked to preside over some literary or scientific congress.

 The State Tribunal Reaches Important Conclusions.
 The following decisions have been handed down by the Minnesota supreme court:

State of Minnesota ex rel. respondents, vs. Harmon
et al., appellants, Syllabus.
 Proceedings upon information in the nature of a quo warranto under chapter 33, General Statutes of 1888, are governed by the rules of the common law. The information will be directly against a de facto or pretended municipal corporation for the usurpation of corporate franchises, or to oust it from the enjoyment of its franchises.
 The question goes directly to the right of such corporation to exercise its franchises, and its lawful existence is not affected by naming the respondents and bringing the proceedings directly against it. Where the corporation is not named, the right of a corporation to exercise its franchises is not affected by the information in behalf of the state. The writ of quo warranto is not a writ of private parties. It is not enough that it be presented with the formal approval of the attorney general. Writ discharged.

TRAH FOR ROCKWELL

Victory Tended on the Citizens Banner and Rockwell is Chosen President.

The Defeated Candidates Attribute Their Downfall to the Fact That Many Voters Carried Their Ballots to the Polls in Their Inside Vest Pockets.

Yesterday's election passed off without any serious disturbance and while there was a considerable undercurrent of excitement the first half of the day the workers for the labor and peoples tickets gradually lost heart and by noon considered their cause as hopeless. The supporters of the citizens ticket had their wires well strung and nearly every man who voted yesterday had his ballot nicely prepared and safely tucked away in his vest pocket and only produced it when he was at the window.

The vote, while quite as heavy as prophesied in yesterday's Herald, is considerably larger than was expected by many. The choice of Dr. Rockwell to handle the affairs of the village is a particularly good one. He is known as an honest, upright business man, and will undoubtedly handle the village business in the same able manner in which he has always conducted his own affairs. He promises to give the village "business administration" conducted on a broad gauge plan.

The ticket as elected is as follows: For president, A. Rockwell; for recorder, P. J. Borgstrom; for treasurer, A. C. Olson; for assessor, H. C. Yeager; for trustees, first ward, E. H. Hall, labor; C. H. Martz, labor.

Second ward, J. A. Erickwood, citizens; John R. E. Bennett, labor; Third ward, A. Bagley, citizens; E. Krefling, citizens; Fourth ward, G. Wedan, citizens; Ira Ide, citizens.

The following shows the strength of the various tickets:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
President, A. Rockwell	52	172	69	57	351
J. E. Ginniss	19	157	131	41	348
Dr. A. Rockwell	22	21	25	91	169
Recorder, Frank T. Green	12	215	159	79	565
P. J. Borgstrom	70	355	341	141	917
Treasurer, R. P. Gugin	47	108	108	73	436
A. C. Olson	44	218	208	82	552
A. P. Yeager	15	220	152	57	443
Dr. H. C. Yeager	22	118	54	33	227
Assessor, R. P. Gugin	47	108	108	73	436
H. C. Yeager	15	220	152	57	443
J. E. Ginniss	19	157	131	41	348

Considerable satisfaction is expressed on all sides as to the result and it is conceded by all parties that the new council will be a strong one and that the various parties elected to care for the village during the ensuing year are the very best choice of the citizens.

Frank Lewis, formerly manager of the Exchange Variety theater, and an all round athlete, was arrested yesterday for illegal voting. He lived here for several months last summer, since which time he has made his home in West Superior, and when his vote was challenged yesterday he swore it, in upon which he was arrested by Court Officer Jensen and locked up. Mr. Lewis claims that he has never moved his effects from this place, and that while he has been repeatedly away, he always considered this his home and that he believes he has a right to vote here.

The following ticket was elected in Onondaga township yesterday: Supervisors, C. W. Hoy, chairman; May Andrews, John Gullbranson; treasurer, M. L. McMini; assessor, P. O. Nabin; town clerk, V. J. Davis; justice of the peace, W. W. Browne; constables, A. A. Auby, August Nelson; overseers, J. E. Olson, district No. 1, A. G. Kent, district No. 2, W. R. Hawthorne, district No. 3.

The ticket was elected as put in the field with but three changes and the town is supplied with a good set of town officers.

Hon. E. E. Farnam, of Warsaw, N. Y., was a guest of J. Allen Scott yesterday.

All commissioned officers of companies G and H leave tomorrow for St. Paul for examination.

There was one plain drunk in police court this morning and his honor sent him up to jail.

The Police Court.

Of the Lotus Glee club, which appears at the Lyceum tomorrow night, the Washington Star says: "There is not the slightest doubt of the popularity in Washington of the Lotus Glee club. They had a well-earned house last evening. The young gentlemen of the quartet are veritable artists, and their singing comes well-nigh to perfection. So carefully have they been drilled that one loses sight of the four individuals and hears the music as if from one source. Their shading is exquisite, and there is especial pleasure in the manner in which the prominence of now one voice, now another, brings up a fresh start by the song. Miss Marshall established herself as a favorite with her first selection and shared with the club in the applause of the evening."

A lumberman's Rendezvous.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central line, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends North to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles, without a break, on account of its vast lumber interests. The Wisconsin river to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Nemadji and Menominee in the West Superior section of the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, there is here numerous other manufactures; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central line are located.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Senator Stewart Expresses Some New Ideas on the Question of Free Silver Coinage.

He Predicts a Revolution and Defeat of the Manipulators of the Gold Trust.

Who Have Curtailed the Supply of Money, While Population Has Enormously Increased.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Senator Stewart, of Nevada, has come to the front with some new ideas regarding the free coinage of silver. The Nevadaian in an interview today said: "The activity of the agents of the gold trust indicate a desperate determination to retain, at all hazards, the advantage they acquired by the demonetization of silver in 1873. When it is asserted that the legislation rejecting silver and placing the commercial world upon the narrow basis of gold was obtained without the knowledge or sanction of the people, they resort to vituperation and indulge in personal abuse without any denial. When the well known fact is asserted that there is not gold enough for use as money, they do not even assert to the contrary, but intimate how they will increase the volume of money of ultimate payment. When reminded of the fact that 18 years ago there was in the world about $750,000,000 of metallic money (gold and silver), upon which was predicated the circulation, the credit and business of the world, they do not undertake to say that there was too much of such money at that time. They do not attempt to explain how less than $3,750,000,000 of gold coin, now estimated to be in existence in the world is sufficient to take the place of the gold and silver coin of 18 years ago.

"It must be borne in mind that the money in which all other money and credit must be redeemed or paid, is the basis upon which the circulation and credit of the world rests. If silver is maintained in circulation by a promise of redemption or payment in gold, that such silver is no better than paper, and is, in effect, a mere promise to pay. Such use of silver does not enlarge the basis of circulation and credit. The gold trust fully understands this question. They do not object to credit money, especially if the government will give them a loan for issuing it. It is in the case of the national bank, because such credit money does not increase the amount of money of ultimate payment. They have reduced the real basis of circulation and about one-half, while the population and business has enormously increased. It is easy to see the advantage they have gained in the purchasing power of gold. It must be remembered that the value of money, like all other things, depends upon the full supply and demand. By their artificial manipulation they have cut off fully one-half the supply of money of ultimate payment, while the growth of population and business has enormously increased the demand. "The tactics of the gold trust are to delay action at the present time, to secure the nomination of their nominees by both the great political parties and retain in their control the government of the country, regardless of which party may be successful at the election. "I believe a revolution will take place that the rule of extortion will not be perpetual. The people are beginning to realize the rapidly with which the non-producing absorbers of wealth can accumulate enormous gains at the expense of labor and production."

WILL BE HERE TONIGHT.

The Lotus Glee Club Will be at the Lyceum.

The Lotus Glee Club will appear at the Lyceum tonight. A telegram received by Manager Seeley this morning says they will be here in time to appear.

Of the club the Daily Record says: "The Lotus Glee Club, assisted by Miss Minnie Marshall, recites, appears at the Wagner last evening. The house was packed to its fullest capacity, and an exquisitely rendered program was listened to by a spell-bound audience. The entertainment was one of the most successful of the series and gave unqualified satisfaction. One of the features of the singing was the distinctness with which every word was pronounced."

TORY COMMENT.

A British View of Mercier's Defeat in Quebec.

LONDON, March 10.—The Times says Canada is to be congratulated on the defeat of Mercier, and adds: "It generally suffices to leave discredited politicians to the punishment involved in their fall, but in bad cases speculation ought not to be shielded any more than murder." The Standard hopes that the result of the election betokens a new departure for the young Dominion. "Looking at the past, however," it says, "it would be too much to hope even that Mercier has disappeared from politics forever."

Quebec—Mercier has resigned his seat in the provincial legislature and issued a letter to his followers announcing his withdrawal into private life. In it he says: "Calumny has got the better of the constitution and the people have refused to blame the man who had substituted himself for the house of parliament and who dissolved them without reason. All the good I have done has been set aside and ingratitude is my only reward. The verdict of the people is unjust and will be severely blamed by history."

MRS. DEACON AND ABELLIE.

Story of Their Intentions as Written to a Society Woman in Boston.

Boston, Mass., March 10.—Interest in the Deacon tragedy has been revived by the arrival of a letter giving some fresh inside facts about the events leading to the shooting. Every one of Boston's exclusive circles has been anxious to get a glimpse of that letter, which was received by a prominent society woman. It was from a particular friend, who knows Mrs. Deacon well, and who happened to be in the hotel at the time of the tragedy. It would be impossible to publish the letter in full, but by the tenor of it a new light is thrown on Mrs. Deacon's probable but too long deferred intentions. They were probably to come to this country, get an immediate divorce from Mr. Deacon and marry M. Abellie. M. Abellie lived and was perfectly conscious until 11 o'clock the next forenoon, and Mrs. Deacon was with him until the end. During the interim, it is said, he made his will in well-attested shape. It was the letter-writer's impression that his money was all left to Mrs. Deacon, though no one knows. Directly after 11 o'clock Mrs. Deacon was alone in the room. She stepped on to the balcony, had apparently but one thought, and that was in what light she herself would be viewed by society. She stepped on to the balcony, had apparently but one thought, and that was in what light she herself would be viewed by society. She stepped on to the balcony, had apparently but one thought, and that was in what light she herself would be viewed by society.

M. Emile Abellie and his two brothers, Albert Abellie and Adolphe Abellie, had the somewhat unpleasant name attached to them of "three corpses," acquired by some general peculiarity of appearance. The nicknames of Emile and one of his brothers were "Lion" and "Coco." The friends of the former have been struck by the fact that Boulanger and himself met with such good ends as it seems he was a great partisan of Boulanger.

EARLY ADJOURNMENT.

Congress Will Try To Shut Up Shop in July.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—An interesting question all over the country at this time is the probable date that the present congress will take its summer recess. In Washington there is a wide difference of opinion as to the date. Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, said: "I think congress will take a recess about July 15. According to the democratic policy about the only important business before congress now is the repeal of the binding twice clause in the tariff. It does not seem to me that this will take congress very long to consider, as it only benefits the farmers to a very small extent. The fact is, that the repeal of the binding twice clause, as the democrats propose, would give the farmers the benefit of $1.50 on 100 acres of land."

Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin, said: "It is impossible to say when congress will adjourn. It does not seem to me that a Comanche Indian could guess as well as any man on the floor of the house."

Representative Haugen, of Wisconsin, said he had an idea that congress would be able to adjourn by Aug. 1.

Some of the Men Who Can Fill a Long Felt Want.

Boston Herald: Cullom and Blair would make a harmonious ticket. Platform: "Too your own horn!" Mr. Flower will go to Chicago. Will it be the flower that bloometh or a little faded one? Philadelphia Bulletin: Mr. Flower will go to Chicago. Will it be the flower that bloometh or a little faded one? Philadelphia Bulletin: Mr. Flower will go to Chicago. Will it be the flower that bloometh or a little faded one?

St. Paul Globe: That Alger boom has been put apparently since the Sun fire cut got on the ground. It never was much of a thing, anyway.

Washington Post: If it be true that Henry V. Spencer has been elected to the Chicago wigwam the other booms will be compelled to stand up.

Memphis Avalanche: Governor Flower will head the New York delegation to Chicago, and if the convention wants him it will know where to find him.

Savannah News: Senator Hill's boom is menaced by a fatal friendship. The spring poets are beginning to dedicate their roundelays to the bold New Yorker.

Lawrence Journal: It is said that the presidential race that is busy in New York at all times has divided into the head-gear of Governor Flower. If that is true Hill has one more friend to kill.

Springfield Republican: Senator Cullom's confident now is "the nomination lies between President Harrison and myself." We do not see, however, how that improves his chances.

Pittsburgh Dispatch: Governor Campbell will not take second place on any ticket but his first place he thinks that a western man would be extremely eligible, and Ohio is far enough west for him.

Milwaukee News: Blair and Cullom are the most conspicuous republican examples of a class that is always heard from at about this time in presidential years. Self-nominators are usually harmless.

Detroit Tribune: If Governor Boies doesn't want to wear his boom in a sling he will have to be squaring himself with the silver people. "Inanition will probably be the cause of a verdict in the case of the Blair boom."

Louisville Commercial: "The nomination," says Senator Cullom, "is somewhere between them, perhaps, just as Senator Cullom's hat is between his head and the moon."

St. Paul Pioneer Press: It is suspected that the strength of the Indiana delegation in the Chicago convention will be lost and dissipated in a gray mist. Gray will also be missed when the ticket is finally completed.

Arkansas Gazette: Senator Palmer of Illinois favors Cleveland for president. But if some morning the venerable senile find the nomination hanging on his front gate it is not improbable that he would have it brought into his house.

For spring recreation at Mueller Bros., Chamber of Commerce building.

CABINET FAMILY.

Two More Members of Harrison's Household; Rusk and Tracy, Cherish Presidential Hopes.

A Strong Combination in Tracy's Interests is Effected in New York and Brooklyn.

While Farmer Rusk is Looked Upon as the Strongest Western Candidate.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Harrison seems to have been unkindly in putting too much presidential timber in his cabinet. Up to the time Blaine wrote his letter of withdrawal, the secretary was a troublesome thorn in the President's side. Blaine was barely out of the way when two other men in the cabinet came to the front with presidential possibilities. One of these is Secretary Rusk, the other Secretary Tracy. The President, however, did not anticipate that Secretary Tracy, although he is known in the East to be a very strong, brassy man, would be considered a serious candidate. In this respect the President is disappointed. A strong combination seems to have been effected in Tracy's interest in New York and Brooklyn, because circulars have been sent to prominent republicans over the country, asking their views.

Senator Washburn and many other republican senators from the West have received these circulars and a good many have sent replies. While Secretary Tracy is not known very well in the Eastern states, but a difficulty besets both Tracy and Rusk, and in view of the fact that they are members of the President's family, it does not seem probable that they can come to the front as avowed candidates for the nomination against their chief. There is a possibility that if President Harrison finds he cannot get the nomination in Wisconsin, he will throw his strength to Tracy.

The claims that Rusk can secure the Wisconsin delegation in his own interest are doubted in some quarters, but in the final vote in the state convention it is believed that the Rusk men will be able to carry the day. National Committeeman Payne, of Wisconsin, who is the leading republican in the Budget state, has declared that the delegation will go to Rusk, and whatever Payne says in this connection will probably be carried out. The former issues entrance remains, but the main entrance is to the east of this at No. 230 Superior street. There a vestibule opens into a lobby, tiled with white. On one side is a handsome desk and counter and scattered about are easy chairs. The room has been decorated and is cheerful and homelike in its look. Back of the office is the waiting room, and a passage leading to the toilet rooms of the secretary of agriculture has never been fully established in Wisconsin.

There is a possibility at this time for the republican politicians in Wisconsin to reach an agreement whereby the delegation to the national convention is carried by the republican party. It is a question at this time whether Senator Spooner will be a friendly to the republican party or not. Mr. Spooner attributes the loss of the legislature two years ago to Secretary Rusk, but the ex-senator's claim against the republicans is never likely to be fully established in Wisconsin.

COMPARATIVE BANK STATEMENT.

A Table Showing Their Relative and Aggregate Strength.

The Herald gives its readers today a comparative bank statement which shows the relative and aggregate strength of the city banks. It is a highly creditable showing and is as follows:

Bank Name	Capital	Deposits	Reserves
First National Bank	$1,000,000	$1,500,000	$250,000
American Exchange Bank	500,000	750,000	125,000
Marine National Bank	250,000	375,000	62,500
National Bank of Commerce	200,000	300,000	50,000
State Bank of Duluth	100,000	150,000	25,000
Security Bank of Duluth	100,000	150,000	25,000
Total	$2,150,000	$3,225,000	$537,500

The statement above shows plainly the excellent condition Duluth banks, as a whole, are in. Instead of carrying in their reserve the amount required by law, they have double that sum, and the ratio of deposits to capital is greater than for a long time. The entire line of discounts carried on account of all the Duluth banks at the present time is $337,340. Contrasting these figures with statements made about a year ago, the improvement is plainly shown. Then there were discounts of $225,000, with a reserve of $1,040,000, capital of $2,520,000 and deposits of $3,100,000. Beside the banks above mentioned, the American Loan & Trust company, with a capital and surplus of $50,000, does a regular banking business and has deposits of nearly $200,000.

THE NEW ST. LOUIS.

A Splendid Hotel Opened in Duluth Today.

The St. Louis was opened today for the first time since it passed into the hands of new managers and supper will be served for a large crowd this evening. Those familiar with the hotel in the old days would hardly recognize it under the new regime. It has been re-fitted throughout. Everything is clean, new, bright and attractive. There are few more attractive hotels in the West than that now possessed by Messrs. Butchart and Michaud. There are two entrances to the hotel from the street. The only one leading to the east, but the main entrance is to the east of this at No. 230 Superior street. There a vestibule opens into a lobby, tiled with white. On one side is a handsome desk and counter and scattered about are easy chairs. The room has been decorated and is cheerful and homelike in its look. The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 10.—The storm which passed over this section yesterday, it was followed by snow over New England. It was followed by snow, gales and decided cold weather, indicated yesterday, but clearing line now set in and nothing more than a few flurries of snow may be expected.
The light wind which prevailed yesterday ended at 3:30 this morning, after attaining a maximum velocity of 40 miles per hour and an average velocity of 30 miles for several hours.
The lowest temperature reported is 22° below zero at Minneapolis, but it has fallen everywhere as far south as Arkansas and east to Lake Ontario.
The highest temperature yesterday was 20°.
The lowest last night was 12° below zero, which melted snow, equal to one foot and three inches on the level.

DULUTH, March 10.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 11: Fair, except slight flurries of snow, slightly cooler, no wind.

THE CINDERELLA OF CITIES.

The Herald has been impelled by motives of justice now and then to comment adversely upon the utterances of our morning contemporary, the Tribune, and it therefore affords us all the more pleasure to approve the following modest statement from its columns in epic prose:

Duluth is the greatest city on earth. There are other larger cities in the world, but there are none that are so infinite in variety nor so wonderful in fertility. Duluth never cowers under the blow of hard times. She never sits in dependency under the cloud of depression.
While other cities of ordinary resources only emerge from their dark periods by the slow and growing light of natural laws, Duluth, when she finds herself shrouded upon such a stage, dispels the ominous shadows with some new and startling resource and continues on her way, defying obstacles and subliming fate and on her powerful, imperious wings soars phoenix-like to Jove. Nothing can stop her in her majestic flight. Nothing can drag her from her towering height. When some resisting barrier threatens to impede her course she only rests a moment and then with added strength butters it away and again flies like a ponderous eagle toward the great sky of supremacy. * * *
Her feet rest upon solid rocks, her outstretched wings cover an empire's wealth, and as her searching eyes look out over immeasurable space she beholds out the metropolis of a continent.

We all knew Duluth was phoenix-like, that she never cowered, that she was pretty fly, that she could dispel the ominous shadow, that nothing could drag or harrow or comb her down, that her feet were on the rocks, and that she could soar on her imperious wings to Jove, but it was left for our cherished contemporary to break the news that she is a brooding biddy with a future metropolis on the half shell. We are never so happy as when dilating upon the merits of our fellows, and this reference to our First Street co-elestial because of its erstwhile waywardness, affords us more than the accustomed cup of joy.

The Herald was pained to read in a local morning paper yesterday the remarks of an ex-Union soldier office holder who spoke of his probable successor as an ex-rebel and declared that naughty thoughts rankled in his mind. It has been our impression that the Union was preserved some twenty-seven years ago, and this is the first intimation we have received that anything rankled in the bosoms of the soldiers of Grant and Lee at or since Appomattox. Grant as president saw fit to reward Mosby and Longstreet, and it has been our understanding that the brave were always generous. This belief was greatly strengthened when ex-Commander Veazy, of the G. A. R., said in his address before the camp fire at Minneapolis a year ago. There is no division now. The blue and gray are one brotherhood. Those fight fought for what they believed to be right. The South was defeated. If an ex-confederate soldier were in need the G. A. R. is bound to assist him, and has frequently done so. The memories of war surely are softened now, and the victors should let nothing rankle. It is a matter of remark that those who were in charge of mule teams behind a hill while the fighting was going on are the last to forgive the South or forget their own service to their country.

Governor Merriam in his contribution to the North American Review very wisely, from his personal standpoint, urges that the silver question should be the central issue of this year's national campaign. The governor is a kind-hearted gentleman and believes in low tariffs to match the low temperatures of this cotton flannel country. He agrees with us that the luxuries should bear the burdens of taxation and that some full dress costumes would be improved with a flesh-tinted tariff schedule above the belt.

G. G. Hartley is reported by the Minneapolis Journal to be saying:
If my Republican friends in the Sixth district would guarantee me the congressional without effort on my part, and assure me of my election without the expenditure of a cent of money, I would not have anything to do with it. Knute Nelson would be the strongest gubernatorial candidate, at least in Duluth and that section. The Republicans of my section are a unit in favor of the re-election of Senator Davis.

Girl is too good a woodsman to speak thus at random. He would give his township and range, and let us know whether it is a state lease or owned in fee.

An elderly maiden lady in charge of an exciting religious revival in Monroe county, Indiana, was expostulated with a few days ago by several farmers whose families she had disintegrated, and as she would not desist they rode her nude-ly and rudely on a rail. The meetings, which had lured many young girls from their homes, were thus adjourned sine die. This is an abrupt and somewhat unusual sort of benediction and can be justified only as a dernier resort.

Lieut. Hetherington, of the U. S. navy, who recently removed the alleged seducer of his wife in Yokohama, Japan, is known to a considerable number of Duluthians, having been stationed here several weeks on the Michigan a few years ago. His case will therefore attract a degree of local interest. But that way of taking life is hardly in keeping with the convenient divorce laws of the United States and in time will be buried with the duello.

It is understood that the proposition to consolidate our two morning contemporaries is declared off for the present.
The question in dispute was the survival of the fittest, and each claimed to have had more fits than the other. However, we are glad to have them both with us.

As the telegraphic wires are all down and half of The Herald force is snowbound in the suburbs, journalism journals with some disadvantage today. But she gets there bright and smiling just the same. No trials, no triumph; no cross, no crown.

The latest arrival knows just as much now about Duluth weather as the oldest inhabitant. The head of navigation never had the wind and congealed mois-shape than yesterday.

The Eau Claire opera house was sold

Now we shall find out how the snow ficiently partisan to make a clean sweep.

Now it is natural gas that has been discovered near Duluth. It will be sold and its praises sung in common meter.

Don't say there are no opportunities

This would be a great day for some

A Race for Life.

A gun is heard at the dead of night.
"Lifeboat ready."
And every man to the signal gun.
Fights for place in the eager crew.
Now, kids, steady.
Tien a glance at the blundering foam.
Now a look at the loving line.
Tien together, with bated breaths.
They launch their boat in the Gulf of death.
Over the breakers wild.
Tien their way through blinding spray.
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, kids, and lift her,
All together!"

They see the ship in a sudden flash Sinking over.
And grip their cars with a deeper breath:
Now it comes to a fight with death:
Tien strokes and they're at her side.
If they live in the boat they die.
If they last through the awful strife:
Oh, my kids, it's a race for life!
Over the breakers wild.
Tien their way through blinding spray.
Hear the skipper cheer, and say,
"Up with her, kids, and lift her,

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD: THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1892.

Duluth as Seen by Others.
(Compiled by the Duluth Real Estate Exchange.) Thaddeus Stevens, 1861—"At the head of Lake Superior will grow up one of the largest cities, perhaps the largest, on this continent." Stephen A. Douglas—"A city at the head of Lake Superior has more possibilities for the future than any city on Lake Michigan." Horace Greeley, 1865—"At the head of Lake Superior there will be seen a city rivaling any which, in ages gone by, has enjoyed the commerce of the East." Jay Cooke, 1890—"By the lakes it is no further from Duluth to Buffalo than from Chicago; yet from Puget Sound to Duluth is 600 miles less than from San Francisco to Chicago. From Japan to the Sound is 800 miles less than from Japan to San Francisco, so in Asiatic traffic there is a saving of 1400 miles."

Thomas Lowry, 1891—"Commanding the head of Lake Superior, Duluth has a manifest destiny of its own. In the natural course of events West Superior and West Duluth must merge themselves in the older town, form a great city."

Joachim Miller on Chicago in New York Independent, 1889—"Chicago will surpass New York as New York has passed Boston. Boston is still higher round in the ladder will be reached in Duluth."

"Indeed Duluth's strategic position makes it as near New York and Liverpool as Chicago."

Editorial in Boston Advertiser, 1889—"It is easy to believe that when even the memory of Proctor Knott shall be forgotten and it will be a ruling power in the land."

Editorial in New York Evening Post, 1890—"We think of Duluth as far away from Nebraska but the distance from Omaha to Duluth is the same as from Omaha to Chicago, and of all the great country north of Omaha Duluth is the natural outlet."

Editorial in London Financial Times, 1890—"Duluth is at present inferior to Chicago only in size and population. It is as near as Chicago to the Eastern seaboard and much nearer the great producing West."

Minneapolis Tribune, 1891—"When J.
Hill obtained control of the Great Northern system, he conceived the idea, which has remained with him ever since,
that Duluth at the head of navigation, held the key to the traffic situation, and would eventually become the great commercial center of the Northwest."

C. A. Pillsbury, Sept. 9, 1891—"I regard this discrimination as absolutely fatal to Minneapolis, and if it is allowed to stand against what it does so stand, the time is short when Minneapolis millars, manufacturers and jobbers will be driven to Duluth to do their business."

The State Tribunal Reaches Important Conclusions.
The following decisions have been handed down by the Minnesota supreme court:

State of Minnesota ex rel. Peterson, vs. Harmon
G. Tracey, et al. respondents. Syllabus:
Proceedings upon information in the nature of a writ under chapter 10, General Statutes of 1891, are governed by the rules of the common law. The information in such cases must be a facto or pretended municipal corporation for the purpose of obtaining the relief thereof. The question is whether the corporation exists, and the law is settled that it does not exist if the corporation is not a corporation under the laws of the state.

Where the object is to test the validity of a corporation, the information must be filed and presented by the state. The writ of certiorari will not lie on the relation and at the instance of private parties. It is not enough that it is presented with the approval of the state attorney general. Vanderburgh, J.

IN RE APPEAL OF WILLIAM T. TIMOTHY, MARY FOSTER, et al. respondents, vs. Ella D. Thompson, et al. appellants. Syllabus:
The exercise of undue influence over a testator must be proved by affirmative evidence apart from his declaration or admission. It is not pertinent to show the effect of such influence upon his mind. It is not enough that the testator was influenced, but the influence must be proved by affirmative evidence. The influence must be proved by affirmative evidence.

A BITTER BLIZZARD.

The Storm of Yesterday the Worst That Duluth Has Ever Experienced.

Property Loss is Very General, But in the Main it is Not Serious.

Only One Death Positively Known, But Others May Come in Later News.

The history of yesterday in Duluth will always be a little mixed. For those who staid indoors it will be a blank wall of white seen from frosted windows. For those who encountered the storm it will be a confused memory of warring wind, of sheets of driving snow which curled and twisted themselves into curious shapes and which blinded and confused all passersby. From the official weather reports it was the worst day's storm that Duluth has had for years. Taken in all its elements it was probably the worst the city has ever known. Every prediction made by Observer Bronson in his interview published in yesterday's Herald was fulfilled. The thermometer fell to zero and then six degrees below. The wind blew 60 miles an hour and 14 inches of snow was hurled into all nooks and corners of the city. The scene on the streets last evening was a curious one. The streets were practically deserted and the storm held undisputed sway. The wind blew up and down the streets and avenues and no matter in which way the pedestrian might be traveling it was always in his face, driving him backward cutting and blinding him with the sharp snow which it carried. No one who was anywhere tried to get anywhere else and hundreds of business men made no effort to get home but spent the night at the hotels.

Up to noon yesterday the storm was severe, but not unprecedented. Up till then there was traffic on the streets and the street cars were running in a spasmodic way. After that time everything was abandoned. The new street car rotary sweeper was blocked in at First avenue east with three cars and all along the lines there were cars unable to move in either direction. Mr. Wardwell made every effort which energy and experience could suggest to keep his lines open, but after dinner had to give up and confess himself entirely beaten. The railroads kept up the fight all the afternoon, but in the evening the fight was abandoned. A train went to Lester Park at 7 o'clock yesterday. Nothing has come through since up to noon today. The short line trains ran until 4 o'clock, but were then abandoned.

It was about 8 o'clock when the storm was at its worst. The thermometer was then about zero and the wind was 60 miles an hour. One could scarcely make way against it, but still some people were on the streets and a few made the journey to their homes on the hill. At the city hall there was a strange sight. A great many poor people, workmen endeavoring to reach their homes back on the hill, got that far and were unable to proceed further. Most of them had no money to go to hotels and Tom O'Brien, the janitor, indulged in a little practical charity. The doors were thrown open, the steam turned on and the building converted into a lodging house, where nearly 60 people found shelter.

At the police station, too, many found shelter. The police department is deserving of great credit for its work last night. In spite of the severity of the storm the patrolmen were kept busy and many a citizen, this morning, owes perhaps his life to the fact that there was an officer to give him a helping hand at a critical time. The reports this morning show that between 60 and 75 people were assisted home by police officers in various parts of the city.

This morning the damage that was done became apparent. Up till 10 o'clock there was still a high wind and much drifting snow, but at that time it calmed down and the situation could be reviewed.

Superior street for its whole length was a mass of snow drifts from 5 to 20 feet deep. Business was entirely suspended and everybody seemed engaged in the task of digging himself out. The street car lines were covered up. Superintendent Wardwell had all the men possible at work with pick and shovel endeavoring to reopen the communication by cars. At 10 o'clock a good part of the line had been opened and the difficulty will be entirely overcome today.

The damage to property was very general but in the main not very serious. In the Lyceum considerable glass was broken as was also the case in the Brighton and all along Superior street. At Boyle's the covering of the roof was stripped off and the same was true at the Palladium. The iron railing on the Presbyterian church spire was torn away and in falling broke a hole in the roof. At the Metropolitan block a part of the cornice was torn loose but did not fall. The apparatus of the signal office which is on the top of building was badly damaged. On Fifth avenue west the front of a building was blown in and there were chimneys blown over without end.

The most serious damage was at the elevators. The roof of "D" was very badly damaged and the conveyor between "D" and "C" was destroyed. It is impossible to estimate the loss either here or in the city at large, but in the aggregate it will reach a considerable sum.

Fortunately the loss of life was very small. No death is positively known beyond that of Cullen, who was killed yesterday at the Merrill & King sawmill. It was reported on the streets this morning that a daughter of Mr. R. S. Lerch had been frozen. But that Mr. Lerch has no daughter, it might have proved true. The police last night picked up a man named Callahan on Superior street, who was under the influence of liquor and nearly dead. He was taken to the headquarters and cared for there, as it was impossible to take him to the hospital. It was found that his face, hands, feet and breast were badly frozen. One case is reported which bears all the appearances of being authentic. A boy named Oleson, who lives at West Duluth, started about 6 o'clock last night to walk home from the Twentieth avenue station. Today his people were in town in search of him. It is not known whether he turned back and is some where in town or whether he was frozen in trying to make his way home. Several cases in which children were frozen have been reported from the west end, but none can be authenticated. There are a number of children who were missing, but most of them have been found safely sheltered some where. The public schools were all dismissed early yesterday morning and the children were able to get home during the lull at noon. It is not believed that any fatalities will be discovered among the pupils at the public schools. In one of the Catholic schools the children were kept all night. A great many people, however, have frozen ears, noses and fingers today.

Observer Bronson has been looking the matter up since yesterday and was able to give The Herald some information. The storm was the worst Duluth has had since records have been kept. There has been colder weather, more snow and higher winds, but never any combination which equalled the one that occurred yesterday. The storm was a blizzard which came and went according to program. It is now down about Cincinnati and Louisville and they are enjoying what we had yesterday. The storm is general today to the southwest, but there is still cold weather to the north of us and we may have some low temperature.

By noon today business has been pretty well re-established. The Spalding, which ran out of coal, was able to get a new supply and the Ideal was able to stock up on provisions again. The train service was resumed on all lines. At Carlton a Northern Pacific train was derailed yesterday and it was said the train and crew were in bad shape but no accidents were reported from there. The street cars will not be running as usual. In a general way, the storm was a "corker." It should not be compared with anything we have had for it was unique. It is one that will be remembered, and in that perhaps will fill a good office for in days to come, the "oldest inhabitant" can silence the young upstart with tales of the blizzard of the winter of 1892.

One of the most pathetic incidents of the storm was the effort of Assistant City Attorney Squires to save a perishing dummy blown from in front of Burrows store head over heels into a drift of the driven snow. The type of manly beauty, prostrate and apparently lifeless, called forth the sympathies of the wayfaring attorney, who, half blinded by the storm, struggled half an hour to resuscitate his fallen brother. He thought the chest heaved and the lips murmured an incoherent plea for mercy, and his efforts were redoubled. But it was only the wind sighing through the tressced burnside of the snow-bound dummy, who, relapsing again into silence, was soon left for dead.

The Railroads.

The blockade is being lifted by degrees and suburban travel was resumed with Lester Park and intermediate Duluth & Iron Range stations at 12:15 this afternoon. Twenty minutes later the Northern Pacific dispatched its first "short line" to West Superior and the Ashland train left on the same road at 12:15. The Eastern is the only road that is clear and freight and passenger trains are all right on that line. Yesterday's runs on the St. Paul & Duluth are "stalled" at different stations and the south-bound limited of yesterday is off the track at Carlton and in bad shape. Yesterday's northbound limited is at Carlton the other side of the derailed train. Some of the delayed trains may be in this afternoon, but the road will not be thoroughly straightened out until tomorrow. The Duluth & Winnipeg is clear along its own line, but its trains are necessarily delayed by the blockade on other roads. The Northwestern will get its trains in order by this evening. The bow string and bridal party road's agent (the D. S. & A.) gravely announce that their trains are all right, but as the lines over which they run between here and Iron River are blocked it is hard to believe the boys. Some little trouble is reported on the Northern Pacific west of Carlton, but it will be remedied before night.

The Elevators.

Some of the elevators suffered severely last evening. The sheathing on the roof of "H" is entirely gone and the roof of "D" is partially denuded of its covering. The engine room of "H" is without any roof and part of the machinery is said to be damaged. The ties between "D" and "G," "H" and "C" and "E" and "F" have been utterly destroyed and the big belts have been broken. Some slight damage is reported at the other houses and the aggregate loss will be quite heavy.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. L. M. Wilcutt leaves soon for Leeburg, Fla. F. C. Van Dusen and Charles M. Harrington of the VanDusen-Harrington company were in the city yesterday. Thomas Lowry, C. A. Pillsbury, Allen J. Blithen and Lucien Swift Jr., of Minneapolis, are expected in Duluth soon, in connection with their interests. H. R. Volton, who has been ill for some days, is much better.
